

$10,800 OF STRIKE FUND IS MISSING

No Satisfactory Explanation of Disposition of Money Contributed During Trouble

BOSTON, May 12.—No satisfactory explanation of the disposition of $10,800 out of a total of more than $25,000 subscribed for the benefit of the striking operatives and their families during the great Lawrence textile strike of 1912 has been made, according to the finding of Winfield S. Sloum, the master who investigated the strike expenditures.

Sloum filed his report with the supreme court today. Joseph Bedard, secretary of the committee to solicit funds for the strikers, deposited in his own name in the Lawrence Trust company on Feb. 12, 1912, $2500 and on Feb. 21 made a deposit of $10,000, the master states. Later he drew checks for $2500 in favor of Vincent St. John of Chicago, secretary of the national organization of the Industrial Workers of the World, $3,000 payable to Thomas Powers, a textile worker of Providence, and $5,000 to Desire Steur of Lawrence.

It was claimed that these disbursements were returned to the strikers' fund but on the evidence, Sloum says, he finds that the money was not returned and used for the benefit of the strikers.

The master reports that neither Joseph J. Eitor nor William D. Haywood, leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, who were in charge of the strike, received any part of the fund. Proceedings against Bedard and other members of the strike fund committee were brought by Attorney General Swift at the instigation of three Boston men who had contributed to the fund and complained in a bill in equity that some of the money had been improperly used for private and personal ends. An expert accountant examined the records at strike headquarters and found that $1,498 had been spent in sending children of strikers from Lawrence to New York, Philadelphia and other cities; $1,363 for agitation and $1,112 for "law." The records show, according to the accountant, that $10,800 was paid to Joseph Shoben, treasurer of the strike committee, $3,150 to Angelo Rocco, and $4,273 to August Detoleneare. Shoben attempted to the needs of the Syrian people on strike, Rocco looked after the Italians, and Detoleneare was in charge of the relief work among the Franco-Belgians. The accounts of Shoben fail to show the expenditure of $2,583, according to the master's report, and although Mr. Sloum believes that he used the larger part of his receipts for relief purposes yet there is an item for $226 for which no voucher can be found.

REV. DANIEL J. GLEASON DEAD

Former Lowell Priest
Died at Randolph,
Mass.

Had Been Pastor of Church There for Many Years

Rev. Daniel J. Gleason, formerly assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, Lowell, died early yesterday morning in Randolph, where for more than 13 years he has officiated as pastor of St. Mary's church. Rev. Fr. Gleason was a nephew of the late Rev. Michael O'Brien, and it was during the time of the latter as pastor of St. Patrick's church, that Gleason was assistant. Fr. Gleason also was at one time assistant pastor of St. Paul's church, Cambridge, and was also for a time connected with St. Mary's church of Newton Upper Falls.

Deceased was a native of Ireland, having been born in Tipperary, Ireland, Sept. 15, 1851. He received his early education there, and in 1870 entered St. Finian's college in Ennis, Ireland, from which institution he was graduated in 1875. A short time afterward he came to America, and entered the Grand seminary at Montreal, where he spent five years in preparation for the priesthood. He was ordained by Archbishop Corrigan in Troy, N. Y., on June 11, 1881.

Fr. Gleason was first located at St. Paul's church in Cambridge, and in 1885 was assigned to St. Mary's parish at Newton Upper Falls where he remained for three years. He then came to Lowell as assistant at St. Patrick's church, but a short time afterward was appointed pastor of St. Mary's church in Randolph where he remained until his death. In 1906 the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood was celebrated in Randolph. Rev. Fr. Gleason leaves one sister, Mrs. Nora Kelly of Randolph, in addition to several nephews and nieces.

In Lowell, Fr. Gleason had a wide circle of friends, who will mourn his loss. He was highly esteemed by every one who knew him and was one of the most popular and most energetic priests in this district. His parish grew rapidly under his direction and he was especially prominent in charitable work. His willingness to lend a hand to those in want of distress won him the love and friendship of Randolph people, who are deeply grieved over his death. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at Randolph.

WOMEN STIRRED OVER MORMONISM

Mass Meeting of Women at Calvary
Church Denounces the Mormon Activity in Lowell

At the Calvary Baptist church yesterday afternoon a mass meeting of women was held to protest against the activities of Mormon agents and emissaries in this city.

The meeting was attended by about 400 women, and was quite enthusiastic.

Mrs. Dills, wife of the pastor, called to order and introduced Mrs. Louis E.
Brittain of Boston, representing the Massachusetts Council for Patriotic Service and the International Council of Women for Patriotic Service.

Mrs. Brittain spoke at length, dealing with the work of the Mormons in a very able manner and pointing out the evidence she had secured to show that they are active in Lowell.

She mentioned the pastor who had reported that one family had been taken from his church by the Mormons, that public meetings had been held on the common and that the Shepard mission had been interfered with by the emissaries of the Mormons.

Several Mormon women attended yesterday's meeting and at the close got into an altercation with those who had gone there to denounce Mormonism. They denounced Christianity and said any of the Mormon elders is better than any minister that ever lived in Lowell.

Mrs. Brittain spoke of the Mormon system as a religion and quoted the section on plural marriage from the 1911 edition of the doctrine and covenant of the Mormon church, showing that polygamy is to Mormonism what Christ is to Christianity. She stated that the manifesto against polygamy which was supposed to have come forth 14 years ago had never been printed in the doctrine until 1911 and then was put into the back of the book not as a command to the church, but with the explanation, "Because we have to live with."

Mrs. Brittain then gave ten reasons why Christians cannot have any followship with Mormons, all of which are quite obvious to any Christian as soon as presented. They embrace all the objectionable features of Mormonism.

She held that the present day system of practicing polygamy under the so-called celestial law is even worse because more degrading in its secrecy than the old time system of polygamy.
The speaker finally showed that any claim that Mormonism without polygamy is a meritorious religious system is absurd, and that without polygamy
there is no Mormonism.

In explaining celestial marriage, Mrs.
Brittain said that wherever a marriage is made in conformity to the law of the land or at variance with any Mormon part it is null and void, according to the teachings of Mormonism whose polygamous relations according to the doctrine last for eternity.

Mrs. Brittain moving been herself a Mormon knows whereof she speaks. She states that the law abolishing polygamy in 1890 or 1892 has been evaded in every way. Joseph F. Smith, nephew of the Mormon prophet, has five wives and has had eleven children born to him since the anti-polygamous law was passed.

The Salt Lake Tribune recently published a list of 200 polygamous marriages and not one of the parties offered a contradiction.

Among the charges made by Mrs.
Brittain were that Mormonism as a religion is pagan, believing in many gods, who have become such by virtue of their polygamy.

As a social system, according to the sworn statements of its own leaders, immoral and illegal; as a political system it is a corrupt ring with an immense fund at its command with which to influence legislation.

The Mormons take an oath of direct loyalty to the American government and its people.

In conclusion, Mrs. Brittain said there are more plural marriages among the Mormons today than there were before 1890.

often did you see him intoxicated?" was asked.

"Twice, I think," replied Mr. Coughlin.

George E. Burns was sworn. Mr.
Burns said his position is that of manager for E. A. Wilson & Co. Mr. Burns said that on the day of the accident McAndrew had been drinking but did not think he was unfit for work.

He said he knew Mr. McAndrew had been drinking because his breath smelled of liquor. He told of his conversation with Mrs. McAndrew and said she told him that she had tried to persuade her husband not to go to work that morning because of his condition.

Mr. Burns said that at the time he saw him last the claimant was fit to do business, though he knew he had been drinking.

Arthur Senter, a foreman in the carpenter shop of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., testified that he saw the claimant on the day of the injury. He was the first man to see claimant when he arrived at the yard. He said McAndrew was not in a fit condition to drive a team.

Asked why he thought he was intoxicated, witness said that claimant could not find the slips for him to sign and that he had some difficulty in getting back on his wagon.

Lyman S. Richards, another employe of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., said he had been appointed to show Mr. McAndrew where to put the line. He said he rode with Mr. McAndrew to within eight feet of the tunnel. He cautioned Mr. McAndrew that he would have to get down on the shaft going through the tunnel. "I knew the man had been drinking," witness said, "because his breath smelled of liquor. I thought, however, that he was well able to take care of himself."

He said he performed the act of first aid to the injured and declared that Mc-Andrew was drunk. "I remarked," he said, "when I saw him coming through the yard that he had a beautiful jag on."

Short arguments were made by counsel for both sides, the arguments centering on the point of "serious and wilful misconduct." In the course of his remarks Mr. Kerwin said that if Mr. Burns of the E. A. Wilson Co., knew the claimant was drunk when he left the yard, the company was guilty of "serious and wilful misconduct."

The committee, after being in session nearly three hours, decided in favor of the claimant, which means that he will receive half of the wages which he received at the time of the accident.

He was receiving $13.50 at the time of the accident and the insurance company will allow him day under the first index, $3.75 a week since the date of his injury and will also settle his doctor bills.

GANLEY VS. LONG CASE ON TRIAL

Many Witnesses Testified for the Defense at This Morning's Session

The case of Ganley vs. Long, an action of tort, which was started in the civil session of the superior court last week was resumed before Judge Pratt this morning.

Winifred C. MacBrayne was the first witness called to the stand. He said he is editor of the defendant's paper and has been in the employ of the same for two years. He said last November he went to Joseph Loughran's office, the latter showing him a writ. He was shown a writ and identified it as the same, saying that the two dates had been changed.

Witness said after the alleged article was published in the paper he called on Mr. Ganley and told him he was personally responsible for the article published in the paper, and after a little conversation he advised me to see his lawyers. I saw the latter and anything in my power to straighten out the matter. On Dec. 22, I published a retraction.

At this point Lawyer Qua objected to the admission of the writ and while the question was argued by both attorneys the jury were led into another room.

Mr. MacBrayne in cross-examination said that Lawyer Loughran told him Napoleon Champagne paid him (Lough-ran), $10 for the bringing of the suit, and that the papers had been served on the same day to Mr. Ganley by Sheriff Martin Courtney.

"How did you get the writ?" asked Mr. Qua.

"When Mr. Loughran died I called at his office and after calling for the paper, received it from the man in charge."

Sheriff Courtney was next called and he said in December Mr. MacBrayne asked him if he had served any papers on Mr. Ganley and he said he did not and to make sure he looked up his book. He said he never served a writ on Mr. Ganley.

Mr. Frederick Chisholm testified that he was present when one Napoleon Champagne called at Mr. Loughran's office and paid the latter $10 and later
$5 to bring suit against Mr. Ganley.

The court ruled that the writ be admitted. At this point Mr. MacBrayne was again called to the witness stand and related the same testimony given in the absence of the jury, and the retraction published in the paper in December was read to the jury.

Mr. Chisholm was recalled and identified the writ as being the one he saw on the date Mr. MacBrayne called. He also said he gave the writ to Mr. Mac-Brayne after the death of Mr. Lough-ran.

Arthur Nolin testified that he knew
Mr. Ganley for the past five years and Mrs. Champagne for about 12 years. He said about three years ago he saw Mr.
Ganley and Mrs. Champagne on a Lakeview car together. In cross examination he said he could not give the date
he saw the couple on the car.

Joseph O. Gannon, real estate broker, said he knows both Mr. Ganley and Mrs. Napoleon Champagne, and prior to two years ago he saw the couple together in Adams street near Mrs.

Champagne's home. They were talking together.

"While on the car did you speak to Mrs. Champagne?" asked Lawyer Qua in his cross-examination.

"I did not because I did not feel like butting in," replied the witness.
Charles Reagan said he lives in Adams street and has lived there for over 30 years. He said he owns the building where Mrs. Champagne used to live, and that he lives in the next house. He said he has known Officer Ganley for four or five years and Mrs. Champagne about the same length of time. He testified to seeing Mr.
Ganley go to Mrs. Champagne's home prior to two years ago about twice a week. He said he was in uniform at the time and he went into the house remaining there about ten or fifteen minutes at a time.

On cross examination he said Mrs.
Champagne had three boys and two girls and the family moved out of his place about ten years ago.

Vital Lessard of Broadway testified to being the father of Mrs. Napoleon Champagne. He said he met Officer Ganley and his daughter in a team on Market street about two years ago, at 7 o'clock p. m. The next time he saw Officer Ganley and his daughter together was on Broadway at night. The officer was not in uniform at the time.

The third time he saw them together was on Broadway. This was about 7
p. m. and the couple were in a top buggy and were driving toward Tyngs-boro. He said he also saw the couple together in Amesbury about a year ago.

Cross examined, witness said his daughter lives in Adams street, and was married to Napoleon Champagne about 20 years ago.

Mr. Lessard said Mr. Champagne drank some but worked all the time.
He said he went to jail occasionally.
He said the last time he saw Mr. Champagne was about a year ago. He testified that while his daughter lived with her husband he went to their home often. He denied testifying at the divorce trial of the Champagne couple.
He does not know how the trouble started between Mr. and Mrs. Champagne for he was in Canada at the time.

Pierre Marchand was next called and he testified to seeing Mr. Ganley with Mrs. Champagne in the latter's house about two years ago. On another occasion he said he saw Mrs. Champagne in her window talking to Mr. Ganley.
When asked if he ever spoke of this matter before this time, he said he did about a year ago to Mr. Champagne.

The defense rested at 1 o'clock when the noon recess was taken.

The arguments were made after recess by Lawyers Qua and Murphy for the plaintiff and defendant respectively.
After a very full charge by Judge
Pratt, the case was given to the jury.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS MEET

Expected to Draft Preliminary Plans for Party Reorganization
—10 States Represented

CHICAGO, May 12.—Progressive republican leaders from ten states are expedited today to draft preliminary plans for the reorganization of the party. They will decide whether a convention shall be held soon, the attitude to be taken toward the national committee, what will best rally and reunite the forces of republicanism and other questions which were discussed informally at two meetings yesterday.

The statesmen who represent the progressive wing of the party were strengthened this morning by the arrival of former Gov. Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, while Senator Works of California telegraphed that he hoped to reach the city in time to attend the afternoon session. Other po-litionians from several central states swelled the attendance to more than fifty.

Senator Borah of Idaho is opposed to calling a republican national conference and his stand on this question yesterday was the beginning of a lengthy discussion. He asserted that it would be useless to attempt to reorganize the party by a conference because any meeting to be held at this time would be controlled by the same men who controlled the convention last June. The reformer fought the conference idea continuously since his arrival and will continue to do so today but is without much hope that his ideas will prevail. He was the center of discussion a second time yesterday when he advanced a plan for the direct election of delegates to national conventions, standing practically alone on this issue. Hostility to the present national commission has been openly expressed by several of the committe-men.

MAY PROCESSION HELD

At Immaculate Conception Church

MANY CHILDREN MADE FIRST COMMUNION IN THE MORNING

Choir Rendered Special Musical Program in Observance of Pentecost Sunday

A class of about 100 boys and girls of the Immaculate Conception parish received first communion yesterday morning at that church. Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I., celebrated the mass and spoke to the children, impressing upon them the importance of their first communion and exhorting them to persevere in the faith and to attend the sacraments frequently in order that they may be true Catholics and true soldiers of the church. The children presented a very pretty picture, the little girls wearing the customary white dresses and veils and the boys dark suits with bows of white silk on their coat sleeves.

Yesterday was Pentecost or Whitsunday, and was marked by special services at the church of the Immaculate Conception. At the 11 o'clock service, high mass the altar was most beautifully decorated with flowers and candles. The celebrant of the service was Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., and he was assisted by Rev. Brother James McCarroll, O. M. I., who will be ordained to the priesthood on Saturday, as deacon, and Rev. Brother Terrence Lofus as subdeacon. Rev. Brother McCarroll celebrated his first mass at the Immaculate Conception church next Sunday, Trinity Sunday. Rev. Owen McQuaid, O. M. I., preached on the feast of Pentecost. The music during the service was especially fine. The choir was led by Mr. Joseph Courtney. The program included Turner's mass of the guardian angels and Lavelle's "Tu es Petrus." Mrs. Hugh Walker presided at the organ.

The annual May procession was the feature of the evening service, and the church was filled to the doors with the large congregation which came to witness this event. Owing to the chilly air the procession was held in the church. The procession included the Children of Mary and the Immaculate Conception sodalities and the first communicants of the morning, and as they proceeded through the aisles the congregation sang in unison hymns appropriate to the month of May. Mother of God, including "As the Dewy Shades of Even," "Majesty Non Est in Te," "Immaculate in This Day," and others. Miss Nellie Bonas, endorsed Hardie's "O Salutaris," and Genevieve "Tantum Ergo." Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., was celebrant at vesper, and Brother James McCarroll, O. M. I., was deacon and Rev. Fr. Fox, O. M. I., subdeacon.

Tomorrow afternoon at half past two Rev. Bishop Da Silva, D. D., will administer the sacrament of confirmation to a large number of children, both from the Immaculate Conception parish and from that of the Sacred Heart. The class in all numbers about two hundred children and there is a number of adults.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The feast of Pentecost was solemnly observed in St. John's church yesterday. Masses were celebrated at 7.30 and 9.30 and the annual collection for the seminary was taken up at both services. The devotion of the Forty Hours will open next Sunday morning at the 9.30 mass and close Tuesday morning at 7.30. At the 9.30 o'clock mass yesterday a class of 15 girls and 15 boys received first holy communion. The children presented a very fine appearance and showed the excellent training conveyed from the Sisters of Notre Dame who are in charge of the Sunday school. Sister Marie Alfrede had charge of the girls and Sister Juliana directed the boys. A sermon on the solemnity of the feast was preached by the celebrant, Rev. E. C. Mitchell, who also expressed his appreciation for the excellent training and attention given the children by the sisters in charge to the superior who makes it a point to be present and assist the children. During the mass there was special singing by the children. In the afternoon at 3.30 the children were enrolled in the capillary by Fr. Mitchell after which benediction, the Blessed Sacrament was given followed by the blessing of the relics. The monthly meeting of the Holy Name society was held last night at 6.30 with a large attendance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are the mildest but surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and biliary complaints with calomel. Dr. Edwards has been calomel's uncompromising foe. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-oil-coated tablets, a safe combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. These pleasant, harmless little tablets do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel at all, but to let Olive Tablets take their place.

Most headaches, "dizziness" and that lax feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits.

At 10c and 25c a box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

ASKS JOHNSON TO VETO BILL

Government Requests Delay in Alien Land Matter

Secretary Bryan, Telegraphs in President's Name

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The federal government's final effort to delay alien land owning legislation in California was made last night when Secretary Bryan, in the name of President Wilson, telegraphed Gov. Johnson, notifying him that the Japanese ambassador had earnestly protested against the bill passed by the California assembly and urging that the governor postpone action by withholding his signature.

Secretary Bryan's telegram, which was framed after a conference with the president yesterday, was dispatched last night and made public at the White House a few minutes later. It was as follows:

"The president directs me to express his appreciation of your courtesy in delaying action on the land bill now before you until its provisions could be communicated to the Japanese government, and considered by it.

"His Excellency, Baron Chinda, has, on behalf of his government, presented an earnest protest against the measure. As you have before you but two attempts to veto.

"To approve or to veto, it will avail nothing to recall to your attention the amendments suggested to the legislature; and as the president has already laid before you his views upon the subject, it is unnecessary to reiterate them. He passes over the questions affecting treaty rights for two reasons, first, because the bill passed by the legislature is avowedly intent to conform to treaty obligations, and, second, because any conflict complained of would be a matter for the courts, but the president feels justified in expressing again his desire that action on the subject be deferred for this session and he expects the desire is more freely because the legislature can be reconvened at any time if the welfare of the state requires it. He is fully alive to the importance of removing any root of discord which may create antagonism between American citizens and the subjects of oriental nations residing here, but he is impelled by a sense of duty to express the hope that you will see fit to allow time for diplomatic effort. The nations affected by the proposed law are friendly nations—nations that have shown themselves willing to cooperate in the establishment of harmonious relations between their people and ours.

"If a postponement commends itself to your judgment, the president will be pleased to cooperate in a systematic effort to discover and correct any evils that may exist in connection with land ownership by aliens."

The decision of the administration to urge Gov. Johnson to use his power to veto or postpone any land legislation was reached after a series of conferences between the president, Secretary Bryan and John Bassett Moore, counselor of the state department, and frequent calls at the department by Ambassador Chinda. It was realized that any further attempt to have the bill enacted by the California legislature amended would be fruitless, since Secretary Bryan's trip to Sacramento was unavailing and the legislature is to adjourn next Tuesday.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Keith's Theatre
Charles N. Saunders of the cast of "It Happened in New York," which opens a week's engagement at the Keith theatre this afternoon, is a performer of very wide experience. He is specially apt in giving personations of well known people, and, during the second act of the musical comedy, he will display his abilities in this direction. John and George E. Goldman, the leading comedians of the company, are widely known. They will be seen in the very funny parts of "Sylvester Bean" and "Chauncey Magdonia." Miss Letty Grover is a fetching southerner, who can sing and dance, and Miss Marion George and Minnie Goodwin are others who are more than ordinarily capable. The chorus of ten handsome young women will be giving a touch on the performance. A dozen musical numbers will contribute much of sparkle to the affair. Ben Hanney & Co., known as The Davenport Swells, will sing and dance. Lucie Adams, premiere bicyclist, have been specially engaged for the week, and a popular master of the auction, is very favorably known for his work. Miss Retti Muri, "The Aviator Girl," can be relied upon to furnish the sensation of the bill. Good seats for all performances may be obtained at the box office in advance. Phone 25.

Merriam Square Theatre

Commencing with this afternoon's matinee at the Merriam Square Theatre, the great Parisian sensation, "Sapho" will be presented, with Grace Young in the title role. She will be seen for the first time in this city in her famous Grecian costume. She will also appear in several other beautiful gowns. Elaborate preparations have been under way during the past week and a lavish production is promised. All the altered members of the company will be seen to advance and the last moving picture will be given as usual from 1 to 10.30 p. m. and between the acts. Performances are continuous. Prices 10 and 50c. No higher seats one week in advance. Next week "Wildfire."

The Casino

It has taken time and money to make the Casino what it is, one of the best conducted resorts of its kind in Massachusetts. Casino patrons are assured absolute courtesy, and as for the music and the hall, it may be said that the orchestra is made up of experienced players, and the hall is without a doubt the most spacious and best equipped for dancing in this section.

FRAGRANT WITH LOVE

Is the Memory of Mother of Christ

Mother's day was observed in several of the Protestant churches, yesterday, and the preachers told of the blessed influence of the mother. Tender tribute was paid to Mary, the mother of Jesus, as the sweet universal type of beautiful, glorious motherhood.

Kirk Street Church
"The Beatitudes of Motherhood" was Rev. C. A. Lincoln's sermon subject at the Kirk Street Congregational church, Sunday morning.In part, he said:
"The beatitudes of motherhood! There are three to which I invite your attention and they are like the three graces mentioned by St. Paul. In Luke, 1:45, we read these words concerning the Virgin Mary: 'Blessed is she that believed—the beatitude of hope; in Luke, 1:42, these words of Elizabeth to Mary: 'Blessed art thou among women; the happiness of a mother in the anticipated career of her child—the beatitude of hope; and in Proverbs, 31:25, these words of wisdom: 'Her children rise up and call her blessed—the beatitude of gratitude and love.' Now abide faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love."

"Attention has been called to the fact that in literature, fiction is singularly lacking in the portrayal of the typical mother. Our novelists have been concerned with the romance of lovers, the affairs of husbands and wives, and the relations of friends, but have in a large measure overlooked that force which, like gravity, binds all together in its strong embrace, the love of motherhood. But the more serious productions of men have not failed to give recognition to the blessedness of motherhood. Christian history and Christian art set forth the noble graces and exalted worth of true mothers."

"History shows us that the exaltation of Mary, the mother of Jesus, did much to exalt motherhood and life together in its strong embrace, the love of motherhood. When Jesus commended his mother to his beloved disciple, John, he commended her to humanity. 'Blessed is she that believed.' Helen of Troy, the heroine of Greece, cannot for a moment compare with Mary, the mother of Jesus, and the mothers of all nations who lived before Christ, great though they were according to their knowledge, stand dimmed and lustreless beside the great glory of the mother of our Lord. Having believed, she did so until the end; for Mary stood beside the cross which

bore the body of her son. Others might desert him, but she could not. Those who thus remain faithful in this day to the trust God has given will, like Mary, stand beside the cross and from out that faith will come at last a sweet blessedness, a resurrection day, a blossoming of hope, a fruitage of the earnest prayer.

"Blessed art thou among women!" The career of the child engrosses the attention of the mother and his success is her greatest happiness. This yearning desire and intense longing of the mothers of the world for the welfare of their children is a powerful force in the affairs of men. Compare if you will the civilization of the ancient world with that of today. Faulty as our society may be, the state of society in Greece and Rome in their days of glory, reveals a condition which shows almost unmeasurable progress in the life of today. Much of this is due to the influence of Christian mothers, mothers who have taught their little ones lessons of purity, pity, goodness and love, from the life of Christ. Anxious as mothers are for the welfare of their children, they find in the Christian religion that which makes for highest character and truest success. Much remains to be accomplished in the world that every mother may see her child possessed of every opportunity for fullest development. Very much that has been accomplished and will be accomplished, must be credited to this never ceasing pressure of mother-love."

First Universalist Church
At the First Universalist church on Sunday morning Rev. C. E. Fisher, D.D., preached on "Mother's Love."
"We owe a debt we can never pay," he said, "to the love and devotion of the mother. It has been the guiding star of our life, 'from the cradle to the grave,' and it will be among the choicest treasures of the heavenly life that awaits us."

The preacher deprecated the spirit of often shown neglect of or disrespect to the mother. Some, it was said, look upon the toll-worn, aged, decrepit mother as a burden. But if such people would but reflect upon what those very mothers have done for them, they would experience a feeling of shame.

Palge Street Baptist
Rev. H. H. Harris preached on "A Tribute to Our Mothers," at the Palge Street Baptist church last evening. The sermon was one filled with tenderness. It told of the noble examples set by mothers of their tasks encountered and of the steady faith and persistence in meeting them. But for the innate wisdom and goodness of mothers the world would have been robbed of some of its finest examples of manhood. Mothers have made great men, by their wonderful influence. The preacher laid stress upon living up to the life ideals of our mothers, whether the mothers are living or have passed beyond. If we do this, then we will become better men and women.First Baptist Church
When the First Baptist church, last Friday night, voted unanimously to call Rev. Millard Brelsford of East Cleveland, Ohio, to the pastorate of the church, a telegram announcing the fact was sent to him. A reply by telegram was received yesterday, and was read by the people at the church services. It was as follows:

"Cleveland, Ohio, May 10.
"I appreciate the honor conferred upon me by the Lowell church, but am humbled by the responsibility thus put upon me to reach the right decision. I shall give the matter earnest attention and announce decision just as early as I see clearly what my duty is."

The preacher at both services yesterday was Rev. W. G. Pope of Liverpool, England. In the morning his subject was "The Art of Seeing God," and at the evening service he preached on "Turning Dust Into Diamonds." The same material, he said, that goes to make coal in God's wonderful crucible is turned into a sparkling diamond. In the same way, God can take any man or woman that is but dust and turn him into a precious stone for his marvelous city of the new Jerusalem. Illustrating, he told the story of Simon Peter in his three stages of character forming: the man of dust, with splendid possibilities but no coherence, the man in God's crucible, and then, the finished diamond.

AT LETTER CARRIERS' CONVENTION

Lowell Man Was Elected
Treasurer at Worcester
Sunday

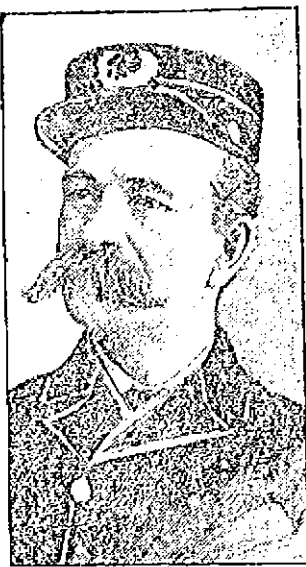

WORCESTER, May 12.—Seventy-five delegates and their friends to the annual convention and banquet of the Massachusetts State Association of Letter Carriers yesterday at Horticultural hall.

The convention voted to hold the next convention at Holyoke on the second Sunday in June.

The following officers were elected: President, John J. Mansfield of Springfield; vice-president, Harold of Brockton; secretary, Bernard J. Curtin of Lynn; treasurer, George L. Adams of Lowell; delegate-at-large, John J. Murphy; alternate delegates, Nicholas F. Lawless of Boston.

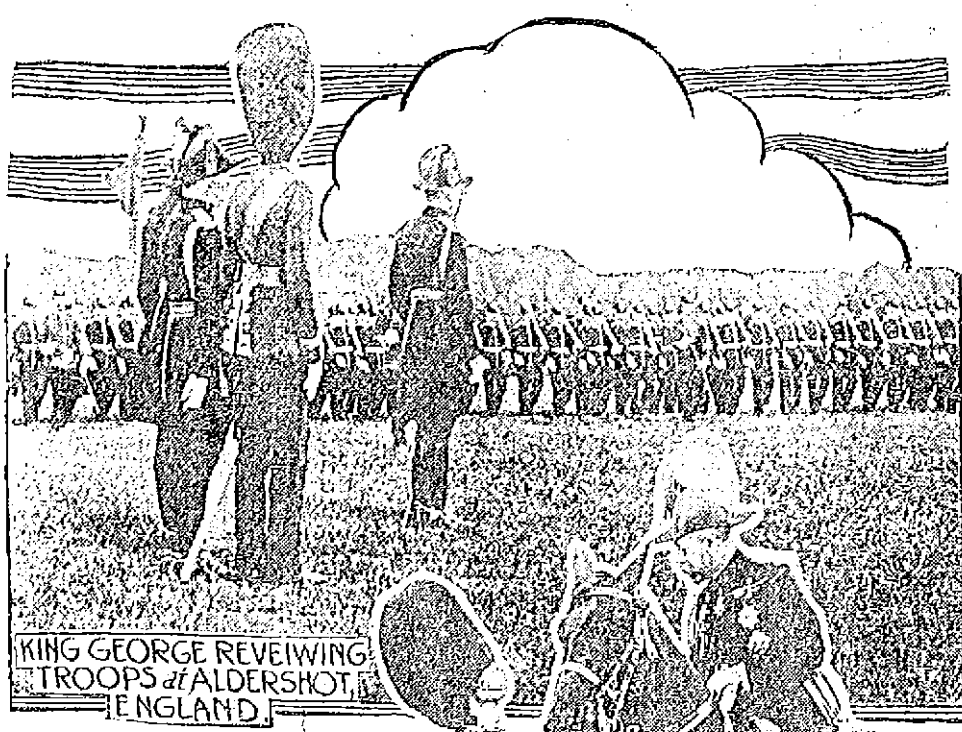

The speakers at the banquet yesterday were J. W. Harland of Boston, who spoke on "The Importance and Position of the Letter Carrier," Al Thorpe of New York, C. T. Hadden of Boston, Joseph K. Atkinson of Fall River, Joseph T. Moynihan of Cincinnati, chief clerk of the national stock board, and Congressman Thomas Bailey of Connecticut.

The address of welcome was made by Alderman Hugh Burke, acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Wright, who is in Washington.

GUARD ENGLAND'S KING AND QUEEN FROM THE MILITANTS ON WAY TO ALDERSHOT

KING GEORGE REVIEWING TROOPS AT ALDERSHOT
ENGLAND

LONDON, May 12.—When King George and Queen Mary left London to visit the troops at Aldershot extra precautions were taken to guard them against threatened attack or molestation by the militant suffragettes. The king is shown in the illustration reviewing the troops. It was on the way to and from Aldershot that the double guard was planned. The king announced that he would not close the east terrace, the favorite promenade outside Windsor castle, today, despite the threats of the suffragettes.

ONE DEAD, TWO DYING IN WRECK

Racing Auto Skids and Turns Turtle at Cohasset Road

Mrs. B. R. Smith Killed
—P. B. Moulton and
F. Holmes May Die

BOSTON, May 12.—Mrs. Beulah R. Smith of 27 Winthrop road, Lexington, is dead. Paul R. Moulton of Bourne terrace, Brookline, is dying, and Francis Holmes of Brookline is seriously injured as the result of an auto accident on the Cohasset road at 6:30 o'clock last night.

Moulton, with Mrs. Smith and Holmes as his companions, was driving an auto that had won the Vanderbilt cup and also several prizes at the Brookline Park races.

He was speeding against another car on the way from Cohasset to Boston, when, in making a sharp turn in the road, the auto skidded, came against a board walk and turned turtle.

Mrs. Smith died on the train rushing her from Cohasset to Boston.

Moulton has a compound fracture of the skull and has but little chance of living.

He is at the Des Moines hospital on Newbury street in this city, and has been unconscious ever since he was hurt.

The doctors expect his death at any moment.

Holmes has a fractured skull and the relief hospital doctors in this city have operated on him and believe his chances of recovery are very doubtful.

Result of a Road Race

The accident is declared to be the result of a road race. Moulton is said by the Cohasset police to have been speeding with another machine whose identity is not known to the police. It is a well known auto race, and competitor at the Brookline races in his car which once won the Vanderbilt cup.

Behind the fatal car J. H. Smith, husband of the dead woman, and Mrs. Moulton, the wife of the racer, were riding. A puncture to a tire of their machine held them up, and it was not until they reached the scene of the accident and learned of the removal of the bodies that they knew of the catastrophe which had occurred.

Just at the sharp bend on the state road at the railroad crossing by the Whitney estate at Cohasset the Moulton automobile in rounding a curve skidded, struck the steel rails, bounced there, the air turned and forward and fell pinning Moulton and Mrs. Smith beneath it. Holmes was thrown clear of the wreck, but when he landed sustained injuries. The automobile landed on the crossbars, made of steel rails, which are laid to prevent cattle from entering the railroad tracks.

Tonsillitis Epidemic Continues to Spread

CANTON, May 12.—Three more deaths from tonsillitis occurred yesterday, bringing up the total since the epidemic started last week to 16. Four hundred cases have been discovered. Yesterday's victims were James J. Smith, aged 68, for 11 years senior vice-commander of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic; Arthur Lefever, aged 55, and Mrs. Mary Sawyer, aged 65. In order of the board of health, the bodies were buried immediately without any public services.

$500,000 FROM GRAFT REP. BEN JOHNSON

Alleged to Have Been Collected in Chicago

May Head Committee of Congressmen

CHICAGO, May 12.—New arrests of men higher up in the protected clairvoyant trust are expected today. Three or more politicians and policemen will be in custody by nightfall. State's Attorney Horine intimated on reaching his office this morning. Barney Bertsche, ex-convict, former saloonkeeper and politician, arrested as the go-between for the clairvoyants and who is at liberty on bail, was guarded throughout the night by detectives stationed about his residence. The state's attorney will place his evidence against Bertsche before the grand jury when it convenes today and asserts he will show that several politicians and policemen received a part of the $500,000 alleged to have been collected annually from the crime and graft rings in exchange for protection. Mr. Horine declared that he had positive information that organized gangs of pickpockets and thugs pay thousands of dollars weekly for immunity. "I am going to get the man who received the protection money, the men who imported the clairvoyants, pickpockets and other criminals to Chicago from other cities," said Mr. Horine. "There are so many angles that I can't say just where the thing will break out next."

The prosecutor said he would prove to the grand jury that Bertsche acted as "fixer" for many clairvoyants in swindling cases in several large eastern cities where the "spook trust" has been operating.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Interest attached to the attitude of President Wilson over the makeup of the new congressional committee which will conduct the congressional campaign for 1915. When the democrats will endeavor to retain control of the lower house. He was reported to have opposed the selection of Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky and Representative I. F. Pepper of Iowa for chairman and secretary respectively of the committee. This was later denied, but the election of those two was delayed, and in some quarters this was said to be the result of the president's stand.

Live Bits of Sport

Matty Baldwin has come out with a den for Gilbert Gallant to pick up. He says that he will meet the Chelsea boxer at any club where the games will be in proportion to his appetite for money. If this bout is pulled off it will settle a great many arguments as to the relative ability of these two fighters.

Moulton, who played second base for the Lowell 1911 champions, has been bought by the Lynn management to play the same position for Manager Flaherty. Moulton was sold to the St. Louis Americans after the 1911 season was finished here but failed to show large enough calibre to remain in the "big show." St. Louis sold him to Memphis and Lynn has again brought Moulton into the New England league. Moulton batted for 313 while with Lowell but his average last year with Memphis was only .202. This player will find many friends in Lowell who will pass out the hand when Lynn comes here for her next game.

It looks as though the Lynn fans are clamoring for a real baseball team and that the management has at last decided that, in order to make the game pay, Lynn will have to show signs of life in the near future. Lynn is a good ball town if the team that represents them plays gilt edge ball but we are the unfortunate manager who expects to make money out of Lynn fans with a mediocre ball club.

Dee is playing a nice game in his new position at third base. Unlike the majority of infielders who have played semi-pro ball before breaking into organized circles, "Shorty" never played any position except short stop and the shift was a big change for him. He is covering a lot of ground, however, and his whipping to first base is the best that has been seen here of any of the hot corner guardians. Dee is also hitting the ball hard.

Fall River here today and tomorrow and New Bedford at Spaulding park Wednesday. With Lavigne back in camp Lowell should have no trouble with the catching department. If Manager Gray's team can go along until the hot weather games with as good a record as last season it will live up to expectations and then some. Zeiser, in particular, is a "hot day" pitcher and Maybom also shows vast improvement when the weather is hot enough to make him perspire freely. The pitching staff will develop all right before the end of next month.

The Burkes Temperance society is very fortunate in having secured a man of "Nixer" Conigill's ability to manage its baseball team. "Nixer" has played the game in fast company and knows all the fine points of baseball. There is no reason why Lowell should not support a fast semi-pro team as well as the New England league club.

JOE RITCHIE COMING HERE RED SOX "COME BACK"

Popular Boxer to Meet Terry Brooks.

Joe Ritchie, better known to local sports as Young Jasper, has been matched to box Terry Brooks of New York in the main bout at this week's meeting of the Acme club. The meeting will be held on Friday evening, and the management is making arrangements for a large attendance.

Ritchie, or Jasper, is well known here, having appeared before local fans on numerous occasions. In this fight he met Ray Wood, Eddie Flynn, Johnny Boyle, Johnny Gallant and several others, and in all showed to good advantage.

Brooks is a New York boy with a reputation for aggressive tactics, with a good measure of science thrown in. In the semi-final, Barney Snyder of Cambridge and Flannery Boyle of Lowell will meet. Snyder is said to be the hardest proposition stacked up against Boyle since the latter began to box.

In the preliminary, Billie Brooks, a brother of Gardner Brooks, will tackle Young Hagley, well known to Lowell fans.

PLAYED IN WIND STORM
Lowell Dropped Saturday's Game to Portland

In a game which was materially slowed up on account of the cold weather Lowell lost the last game of the series with Portland Saturday by the score of 3 to 2. Errors by Miller, who was playing a poor field, helped the team from the Maine city to clinch their second win of the series. The diamond around second base was covered with loose earth and the wind whipped the dust into this player's face so that his errors were perfectly excusable.

Lowell only managed to get three hits off Wormwood's delivery. Zeiser also pitched a good game, allowing only seven safes. McKoon was the only one to hit for an extra base and his clout in the third inning for three bases brought home Clemens. Ferrin and Yelle both hit well for Duffy's club. The score:

HARD HITTING FIRST BASEMAN

Jack Halstein Showing Up Well This Season

Jack Halstein, the hard hitting first baseman of the Lowell team, has attracted the attention of several of the big league clubs by his great work so far this season. Jack had a good year last season but was not anywhere near his true form on account of sickness. He is, without question, the best fielding first sacker in this league and then some. He hits the ball on the nose and he hits it hard. Whenever Halstein goes up to bat it is a safe bet that he will drive the ball to some part of the field or diamond and if he doesn't get a hit the man who handles the ball will be forced to extend himself. Halstein is a big fellow but is not heavily built as anyone who has seen him run bases will readily testify.

Last year President McAleer of the Boston Red Sox wanted this player and Manager Gray could have disposed of him at that time for a goodly sum. The Lowell manager, however, thought that Halstein could play better ball than he showed last season and held up the sale. His judgment proved correct and this year McAleer is offering a larger sum. Just what will be done with Halstein has not just yet been announced.

14 STRAIGHT FOR YALE

Blues Baseball Team in Great Form

BOSTON, May 12.—The work of the Yale nine continues to be the feature of the intercollegiate baseball season although the navy aggregation is commanding attention. Yale's victory over Pennsylvania in their third meeting on Saturday after 14 exciting innings marked the Blues 14th straight victory. Its only defeats have been two by the Giants and an early season contest with Pennsylvania. The navy has won eight out of ten games, including such strong opponents as Pennsylvania, Georgetown, Amherst and Cornell. ## TARIFF REVISION FIGHT

Renewed in the Senate
Today

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The tariff revision fight, shifted from the house, will be renewed in the senate today when the Underwood bill comes up for reference to the finance committee. The senate was not in session today. The house met today to dispose of what some party leaders refer to as "chicken feed," with the announced purpose of adjourning almost immediately for three days, a beginning of regular adjournments for similar periods until the first week of June.

The idea is to mark time pending the tariff bill on the senate side of the capital and preparations of currency legislation. Meanwhile the democratic majority of the senate and means committee as the committee on committees will meet almost daily to frame the personnel of the regular committees of the house.

JUDGE CAVAN

New Haverhill Judge Presides in Court For First Time and is Warmly Congratulated
Lowell friends of Judge Daniel J. Cavan, of Haverhill, recently appointed to the district court of Northern Essex, will be interested to learn that the new judge presided in court for the first time on Friday last. A goodly number of lawyers and well known citizens were present at the session and at its close the judge was warmly congratulated. Judge Cavan enjoys the distinction of being one of the youngest judges in New England.

NEAR FATE OF TITANIC

Steamer Chiltern Range
Hits Iceberg

BOW PLATES BADLY DENTED BY GLANCING BLOW

Luckily Slid Off Ice Mass and Escaped Contact With Sharp Sections—Miraculous Escape

MONTREAL, May 12.—The fate of the Titanic was narrowly escaped by the steamer Chiltern Range in a collision with an iceberg to the east of the Newfoundland banks on her voyage from Hull to this port, where she arrived yesterday.

The steamer, a British freighter, had her bow plates badly dented by a glancing blow she struck the berg and only the fact that she luckily slid off the ice mass and escaped contact with any sharp section of the underlying portion of it saved her from disaster, in Capt. Rea's opinion.

In Track of Livers

The berg was struck in latitude 46.33 north, and longitude 44.40 west, in the track of ocean liners, but some distance to the north and east of the spot where the Titanic met her fate.

After the collision the steamer was surrounded by icebergs which, although they could not be seen, evidenced their presence by the echoes that resounded from their towering sides at every blast from the steamer's whistle. Those on board regarded her escape from destruction as nothing short of miraculous.

"We were going dead slow because of the dense fog which prevented us from seeing more than a foot ahead," said Capt. Rea last night in describing the steamer's experience. "Suddenly an iceberg loomed up to starboard which I estimated to be at least from 150 to 200 feet high. It loomed above us."

"The vessel touched it with her starboard bow, but fortunately the impact only dented a couple of her plates. The Chiltern Range struck the berg a glancing blow. No, we did not reverse the engines, or I should not be here to tell the tale. We just slid off the berg, as it were. Had the engines been reversed there would probably have been a stern collision."

"What I was most afraid of was that an underlying spur of the iceberg might rip the ship open, as was the case when the Titanic struck. When the ship slid away from the berg we went to the eastward, but very slowly. We stood away to the eastward till dark, and lay all night with the engines almost stopped. We were surrounded by icebergs, for though we could not see we could hear them. After every blast of the whistle a sound like the report of a gun followed from 20 to 30 seconds later."

EARLY JUNE EXAMINATIONS

United States Civil Service Commission Announces Competitive Tests For Vacancies in Government Positions

The greatest bargains ever offered will be ready for you Wednesday.

All new, seasonable merchandise.

TUESDAY'S PAPERS WILL TELL YOU ALL ABOUT THE SALE—WATCH—WAIT FOR THIS SALE.

Governor Hughes

Had the laws changed making it possible.

Governor Sulzer

has had it carried into practical effect for the benefit of all the people.

When a Bank Failed

formerly a Receiver was appointed to dispose of the assets. A few individuals with plenty of ready cash obtained the bargains and made the money.

Governor Hughes

had the law changed and the State of New York Banking Department takes charge of and liquidates all failed Banking Institutions.

Governor Sulzer's

administration has ordered that if there are to be any opportunities for making money from the assets of failed Banking Institutions, all the people should be given an equal chance.

The Banking Department of the State of New York realize perfectly that such a large tract as 3019 separate lots of the Morris Park Race Track cannot be sold without sacrificing their value.

But the Property Must Be Sold—There is no alternative.

That is what is meant by the State of New York giving you The Opportunity to Make Money

PAINFUL INJURY

TAILOR HAN NEEDLE THROUGH FINGER OF LITTLE FINGER

George W. Burns Fell at Corner of Central and Jackson Streets and Sustained Gash in Head

George Naglo, a tailor in the employ of John Topplan, ran the needle of a sewing machine through the bone of the little finger on the right hand Saturday. It was a very painful wound and the injured man was taken to the Emergency hospital where his finger was dressed.

Gash in Head

George W. Burns, who resides in Bridge street received a bad fall Saturday at the corner of Central and Jackson streets and as a consequence was taken to the Emergency hospital where several stitches were taken in a gash in his head.

Foot Injured

The Emergency hospital had another case Saturday when the wheelbarrow which Peter Daley was trundling ran into another barrow. The barrow tipped over on Daley's foot and fractured several small bones.

CHELMSFORD

Rev. Earl Alan Roadman preached at the morning service at the Central Congregational church in Chelmsford yesterday, and took for his subject, "Our Mothers." At the conclusion of the service in commemoration of Mothers' day, each woman member of the congregation was presented a white carnation.

Rev. C. H. Ellis preached at the Central Baptist church of Chelmsford and took for subject, "Mother's Place."

THE CREATION

Tickets for the Choral Society's Oratorio on Wednesday Night Are Going Like "Hot Cakes"

There has been a splendid response by the public in the sale of tickets for the Choral Society's performance of "The Creation," on Wednesday night this week. About the only seats left unsold are in the second balcony, and these are rapidly being secured by the belated ticket seekers. By many who keenly enjoy and appreciate good music the seats in the second balcony are considered the best in the opera house for a musical evening. The best efforts of the soloists, the chorus and of the orchestra are to be appreciated there as from no other part of the house. There will be lots of good company there, even as there was the night Schumann-Bienek sang.

The chorus is bound to appear at its best and with the trio of soloists and the orchestra "The Creation" will have a presentation which will equal, if it doesn't surpass any previous effort which has been made in this city.

You Smoke a "Better" Tobacco—Why Not Smoke The Best?

WALLACE IRWIN

Wallace Irwin, writer and lyricist, author of "Letters of a Japanese Schoolboy," etc., says:

"Tuxedo is always welcome. A pleasant smoke, a mental brace—the ideal tobacco."

JAMES W. LOYND

James W. Loynd, superintendent of the Prudential Insurance Co., at Philadelphia, says:

"I could not smoke a pipe until I smoked Tuxedo. I found it a cool, mild, even-burning tobacco of delightful flavor. As a smoke and relief after a strenuous day, it is the 'Real Thing'."

WM. COATES

Wm. Coates, Chief Engineer of the Pittsburgh Pipe Department, says:

"Tuxedo is mild, with no tongue-bite and no throat irritation. I like it as well as any tobacco that I have ever used."

HENRY HUTT

Henry Hutt, whose "American Girl" creations have made him famous, says:

"A pipeful of Tuxedo puts new life into me. The mildest and purest tobacco known."

GEORGE E. PHILIPPS

George E. Philipps, Mayor of Covington, Kentucky, says:

"A good pipe and Tuxedo to fill it, and I'm satisfied. The tobacco in the little green tin has no rival as far as I am concerned."

W. HAYDEN COLLINS

W. Hayden Collins, prominent in real estate and member of the Chamber of Commerce of Washington, D.C., says:

"I've compared Tuxedo with other tobaccos, much to the advantage of Tuxedo. It leads by a wide margin in purity and mildness."

THE tobacco you now smoke you consider "better tobacco than you ever smoked before." Naturally, you kept trying until you found a "better" one.

But it stands to reason that since there is a difference in tobaccos, you may be missing still greater pleasure in a still better smoke—in the BEST smoke, in fact.

We know that Tuxedo is the best smoke because we know that no better tobacco leaf grows, and that no process of treating tobacco leaf equals the original Tuxedo process.

Tuxedo
The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

We know that Tuxedo is made of the BEST tobacco—rich, mellow, perfectly aged Kentucky Burley. None better can be bought, because none better is grown.

Tuxedo is pure tobacco, through and through—handled under the cleanliest conditions.

It is treated by the famous original "Tuxedo process" for removing the sting and bite of the natural vegetable oils.

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have sprung up.

No other tobacco can give the unique pleasure of Tuxedo because no other maker has yet been able to equal the Tuxedo quality!

Only by smoking the original can you get complete satisfaction in pipe or cigarette.

FINED $25 FOR ASSAULT

Young Man Attacked Girl

Saturday Night

MAN CHARGED WITH LARCENY OF HARNESS FINED

Man Accused of Evading Car Fare

Was Discharged—Assault and Battery Cases Continued in Court Today

Arthur Otis, the only member apprehended of a gang of three who assaulted Jennie Landry Saturday night, told the court that he did not know just what plea to offer as he was drunk at the time and does not remember anything that took place after he had "liquored up."

The court ordered all the testimony in the case to be brought forth. It seems that Miss Landry was standing in front of her home on Ward street last Saturday night about eight o'clock engaged in conversation with a girl friend when Otis and two companions suddenly made their appearance. Her chum fled and when the young lady attempted to cross the street to reach her home, it is said she was set upon by the three young ruffians. Her struggles and screams attracted the attention of several men on the street and before long there was a general melee in progress. The girl's father came out and took a hand in the fray, according to Officer Lannouze's story. The defendant did not dispute any point in the testimony and simply begged for leniency. He told the court that he had a good job and that he would go back to work and keep straight if let off this time. Judge Enright thought that it was too much to give a young man a suspended sentence for an assault of this nature and ordered Otis to pay a fine of $25 within the next three months. If he is brought in again he will be sent to the reformatory at Concord.

Larceny of Harness

Edward A. Saunders was charged with the larceny of a harness from James A. Donnelly and with receiving stolen property which belonged to Patrick Welsh. Superintendent Welsh informed the court that the defendant had made restitution to both parties mentioned in the complaint and that he would recommend that a fine of $25 be imposed. The court fined Saunders $25.

Given Last Chance

Oscar Bourneau, an 18-year-old boy whose parents are both dead, was given a suspended sentence to the reformatory on condition that he mend his ways. Officer Donovan testified that the defendant belongs to a gang that has caused him considerable trouble by hanging around the corner of Lake

LOWELL ENTERTAINED FALL RIVER TODAY

Quite a good sized gathering of fans were present at Spaulding park this afternoon to witness the battle between Jimmie Gray's club and the Fall River representatives. The weather was quite conducive to good baseball and both teams showed lots of life.

Lowell people were pleased to welcome the team home after a successful week as guests of other teams in the league. Maybom was on the mound for the home team while Kessler was the visiting twirler. A few moments after three o'clock umpire O'Brien called the game. The lineup:

Lowell
Clemens, cf
Mages, 1b
McKenna, 2b
Halsein, 3b
Miller, 2b
Dee, 3b
Smoey, ss
Monahan, c
Maybom, p

Fall River
3b, Campbell cf, Clement
rf, Courtney
1b, McGovern
2b, Cooney ss, Robinson
3b, Fishburne
c, Perkins
p, Kessler

First Inning
Campbell, the first visitor to face Maybom, got a hit. Clement drove one to Halsein, who held it to Miller for the putout. Courtney went to second on the play. Courtney went out, Dee to Halsein, advancing Campbell to third. McGovern walked. Halsein stole second and Monahan threw to Smoey, who returned the ball fast enough to get Campbell out while trying to reach the plate.

Clemens opened for Lowell by driving a hot one to the pitcher and being safe on first; it was a hit. Mages hit safely over second base advancing Clemens and McKenna hit along the third base line, scoring Clemens. Halsein stole out to center field, bringing home Mages and McKenna, himself going to second on the throw in. Dee hit to the pitcher and was safe on first when Kessler threw to third, nailing Miller. Campbell making the putout. Smoey fanned.

Second Inning
Cooney drove one to left field, which was labeled one base but when he tried to stretch it into a two bagger he was thrown out by Mages to Miller. Robinson was passed, Fishburne hit to Smoey who fielded the ball but made a wild throw over second. Robinson going to third and Fishburne to second. Perkins scored Robinson on a hit to center field. Kessler hit a high one to McKenna who fumbled and Fishburne scored. Campbell put up a foul fly to Monahan and Clemens was put away Miller to Halsein.

Lowell was retired in short order when Monahan hit out to Courtney and Maybom and Clemens fanned.

Third Inning
Courtney walked, McGovern fanned, Cooney was safe at first when McKenna for the second time muffed a fly ball. Robinson stole second but Fishburne hit one about two feet along the first base line and was tagged out by Monahan.

Mages hit to right field for three stations. McKenna went out. Cooney to McGovern, and Halsein was sent away by Campbell to McGovern, Mages scoring on the latter play. Miller stroked and stole second but Dee struck out.

Fourth Inning
Perkins hit one to Smoey and beat the ball to first. Kessler was passed. At this point, Barron replaced Maybom on the mound and the new pitcher began by fanning Campbell, after which he passed Clement and fanned Courtney and McGovern.

Smoey hit to center field and Monahan was retired by Cooney to McGovern. Barron hit to McGovern, who made the put out unassisted. Clemens hit to McGovern, who juggled the ball along enough for Smoey to reach the plate. Mages hit to the shortstop, who threw Clemens out to Cooney.

Fifth Inning
The fifth session was extremely short. Cooney, Robinson and Fishburne fled out to Dee, Clemens and Monahan respectively.

McKenna, Halsein and Miller hit to Campbell, Cooney and Fishburne respectively, all of whom threw to first in time to call the runners.

Sixth Inning
Perkins hit to left field and Kessler fled out to center field. Campbell fanned and Clement hit safely to left. Courtney fled to right field and McKenna redeemed himself for past errors by making a beautiful and sensational catch.

Dee was put away, Kessler to McGovern; Smoey was safe when Fishburne threw high to first. Monahan hit to Fishburne and was safe on fielder's choice but Smoey went out, Fishburne to Cooney. Barron was retired, Fishburne to McGovern.

AGAINST MORMONS

Mass Meeting of Women at Calvary Church Denounces the Mormon Activity in Lowell

At the Calvary Baptist church yesterday afternoon a mass meeting of women was held to protest against the activities of Mormon agents and emissaries in this city.

The meeting was attended by about 400 women, and was quite enthusiastic. Mrs. Dilla, wife of the pastor, called to order and introduced Mrs. Louis E. Brittain of Boston, representing the Massachusetts Council for Patriotic Service and the International Council of Women for Patriotic Service.

Mrs. Brittain spoke at length, dealing with the work of the Mormons in a very able manner and pointing out the evidence she had secured to show that they are active in Lowell. She mentioned the pastor who had reported that one family had been taken from his church by the Mormons, that public meetings had been held on the common and that the Shepard mission had been interfered with by the emissaries of the Mormons.

Several Mormon women attended yesterday's meeting, and at the close got into an altercation with those who had come there to denounce Mormonism. They denounced Christianity and said any of the Mormon elders is better than any minister that ever lived in Lowell.

Mrs. Brittain spoke of the Mormon system as a religion and quoted the section on plural marriage from the 1911 edition of the doctrine and covenant of the Mormon church, showing that polygamy is to Mormonism what Christ is to Christianity. She stated that the manifesto against polygamy which was supposed to have come forth 14 years ago had never been printed in the doctrine until 1911 and then was put into the back of the book not as a command to the church, but with the explanation, "Because we have to we will."

She held that the present day system of practicing polygamy under the so-called celestial law is even worse because more degrading in its secrecy than the old time system of polygamy. The speaker finally showed that any claim that Mormonism without polygamy is a meritorious religious system is absurd, and that without polygamy there is no Mormonism.

In explaining celestial marriage, Mrs. Brittain said that wherever a marriage is made in conformity to the law of the land or at variance with any Mormon system as a religion and quoted the section on plural marriage from the 1911 edition of the doctrine and covenant of the Mormon church, showing that polygamy is to Mormonism what Christ is to Christianity. ## FIVE MEN KILLED BY STROKE OF LIGHTNING

COLLINSVILLE, Okla., May 12.—Five employees of the Texas Pipe Line Co. were instantly killed today by a stroke of lightning. Two others were probably fatally injured. The men were driving to the company's oil field, three miles from town, when the bolt struck them. Many oil tanks were set on fire and the damage is estimated at $100,000. Rain fell in torrents and much property was washed away.

GANLEY VS. LONG CASE TO JURY

Arguments and Judge Pratt's Charge Made After the Noon Recess

The case of Ganley vs. Long, an action of tort, which was started in the civil session of the superior court last week was resumed before Judge Pratt this morning.

Winifred C. MacBrayne was the first witness called to the stand. He said he is editor of the defendant's paper and has been in the employ of the same for two years. He said last November he went to Joseph Loughran's office, the latter showing him a writ. He was shown a writ and identified it as the same, saying that the two dates had been changed. Witness said after the alleged article was published in the paper, he called on Mr. Ganley and told him he was personally responsible for the article published in the paper, and after a little conversation he advised me to see his lawyers. I saw the latter and offered to make a retraction and do anything in my power to straighten out the matter. On Oct. 22, I published a retraction.

At this point Lawyer Qua objected to the admission of the writ and while the question was argued by both attorneys the jury were led into another room.

Mr. MacBrayne in cross-examination said that Lawyer Loughran told him (Napoleon) Champagne paid him (Loughran) $10 for the bringing of the suit, and that the papers had been served on the same day. Mr. Ganley by Sheriff Martin Courtney.

"How did you get the writ?" asked Mr. Qua.

"When Mr. Loughran did I called at his office and after calling for the paper, received it from the man in charge."

The court ruled that the writ be admitted. At this point Mr. MacBrayne was again called to the witness stand and related the same testimony given in the absence of the jury, and the retraction published in the paper in December was read to the jury.

Mr. Chisholm was recalled and identified the writ as being the one he saw on the date Mr. MacBrayne called. He also said he gave the writ to Mr. MacBrayne after the death of Mr. Loughran.

Arthur Nolin testified that he knew Mr. Ganley for the past five years and Mrs. Champagne for about 12 years. He said about three years ago he saw Mr. Ganley and Mrs. Champagne on a Lakeview car together. In cross-examination he said he could not give the date he saw the couple on the car.

Joseph O. Gagnon, real estate broker, said he knows both Mr. Ganley and Mrs. Napoleon Champagne, and prior to two years ago he saw the couple together in Adams street near Mrs. Champagne's home. They were talking together.

"While on the car did you speak to Mrs. Champagne?" asked Lawyer Qua in his cross-examination.

"I did not because I did not feel like butting in," replied the witness.

Charles Reagan said he lives in Adams street and has lived there for over 30 years. He said he owns the building where Mrs. Champagne used to live, and that he lives in the next house. He said he has known Officer Ganley for four or five years and Mrs. Champagne about the same length of time. He testified to seeing Mr. Ganley go to Mrs. Champagne's home prior to two years ago about twice a week. He said he was in uniform at the time and he went into the house remaining there about ten or fifteen minutes at a time.

On cross-examination he said Mrs. Champagne had three boys and two girls and the family moved out of his place about two years ago.

Vital Lessard of Broadway testified to being the father of Mrs. Napoleon Champagne. He said he met Officer Ganley and his daughter in a team on Market street about two years ago, at 7 o'clock p. m. The next time he saw Officer Ganley and his daughter together was on Broadway at night. The officer was not in uniform at the time. The third time he saw them together was on Broadway. This was about 7 p. m. and the couple were in a top buggy and were driving toward Tenagahoro. He said he also saw the couple together in Amesbury about a year ago. He said about two years ago he saw the couple together about two or three times a month.

Cross-examined, witness said his daughter lived in Adams street, and was married to Napoleon Champagne about 20 years ago.

Mr. Lessard said Mr. Champagne drank some but worked all the time. He said he went to jail occasionally. He said the last time he saw Mr. Champagne was about a year ago. He testified that while his daughter lived with her husband he went to their home often. He denied seeing Mr. Champagne at the divorce trial of the Champagne couple. He does not know how the trouble started between Mr. and Mrs. Champagne for he was in Canada at the time.

Pierre Marchand was next called and he testified to seeing Mr. Ganley with Mrs. Champagne in the latter's house about two years ago. On another occasion he said he saw Mrs. Champagne in her window talking to Mr. Ganley. When asked if he ever spoke of this matter before this time, he said he did about a year ago to Mr. Champagne. The defense rested at 1 o'clock when the noon recess was taken.

The arguments were made after recess by Lawyers Qua and Murphy for the plaintiff and defendant respectively. After a very fast charge by Judge Pratt, the case was given to the jury.

ALDERMAN CUMMINGS
Replies to Plumbers Union Relative to Standing of Mr. Keefe

Relative to the demand of the journeymen plumbers that Fred Keefe, an employee of the lands and buildings department join the union, Commissioner Cummings has addressed the following communication to the secretary of the union:

May 12, 1913.

Dear Sir: In reply to your letter received last Saturday morning at this office, I would say that the records here show Mr. Fred Keefe has been employed in this department eight years, five of which as a journeyman. His work has been satisfactory.

Regarding his being a union man, he was hired long before I was given charge of this department by vote of the municipal council.

He informs me that he has never been asked to join your union of journeymen plumbers, gas fitters, steam fitters and steam firemen. He also says that if you or any other person designated by your union will ask him he will apply for admission to your ranks.

If this is all that is wanted by your union it seems to me no conference is necessary.

Sincerely yours,

Lawrence Cummings, Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses.

John Hickey and Leon Ford of the local office of the B. & M. railroad have come to Water Hill, Maine, to attend the railroad convention. Messrs. Hickey and Ford expect to be absent about one week.

DEATHS
BROWN—Mrs. Ellen B. Brown, formerly a resident of this city, passed away Sunday at her home, 437 1/2 Main street, Lowelltown, Mass., aged 60 years. She is survived by one niece, Miss Nellie B. Merrill of this city.

FUNERALS
MOODY—The funeral of Miss Susan Moody took place from the Old Ladies' home, Fletcher street, this morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Fisher, pastor of the First Universalist church. The body was forwarded to Holliston, Mass. on the 11:07 train for burial. The arrangements were in charge of Undertaker J. B. Currier Co.

ORGAN REMOVED
Large Instrument at St. Jean Baptiste Church Was Taken Apart and Stored in College

Work on the clearing of the debris at St. Jean Baptiste church is progressing rapidly. The large organ which was considerably damaged by smoke and water was taken apart under the direction of Mr. Goodwin, and the parts were removed to St. Joseph's college across the street, where they will be stored until the temple is made ready to receive the instrument.

The contractor in charge of the work has erected an office on the steps of the church and several men are employed in constructing a monitor staging and in clearing out what remains of the debris of the fire which destroyed the church last fall.

DELICATE CHILDREN ASKS JOHNSON TO VETO BILL

MAY PROCESSION HELD At Immaculate Conception Church

MANY CHILDREN MADE FIRST COMMUNION IN THE MORNING

Choir Rendered Special Musical Program in Observance of Pentecost Sunday

A class of about 100 boys and girls of the Immaculate Conception parish received first communion yesterday morning at the half past seven o'clock mass at that church. Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I., celebrated the mass and spoke briefly to the children, impressing upon them the importance of their first communion and exhorting them to persevere in the faith and to attend the sacraments frequently in order that they may be true Catholics and true soldiers of the church. The children presented a very pretty picture, the little girls wearing the customary white dresses and veils and the boys dark suits with bows of white silk on their coat sleeves.

Yesterday was Pentecost or Whitsunday, and was marked by special services at the church of the Immaculate Conception. At the 11 o'clock solemn high mass the altar was most beautifully decorated with flowers and candles. The celebrant of the service was Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., and he was assisted by Rev. Brother James McCartin, O. M. I., who will be ordained to the priesthood on Saturday, as deacon, and Rev. Brother Terrence Loftus as subdeacon. Rev. Brother McCartin will celebrate his first mass at the Immaculate Conception church next Sunday, Trinity Sunday. Rev. Owen McQuaid, O. M. I., preached on the feast of Pentecost. The music during the service was especially fine. The choir was led by Mr. Joseph Courtney. The program included Turner's mass of the guardian angels and Lavelle's "Tu es Petrus." Mrs. Hugh Walker presided at the organ.

The annual May procession was the feature of the evening service, and the church was filled to the doors with the large congregation which came to witness this event. Owing to the chilly air the procession was held in the church. The procession included the Children of Mary and the Immaculate Conception sodalities and the communicants of the morning, and as they proceeded through the aisles the congregation sang in unison hymns appropriate to the month of Mary, Mother of God, including "As the Dewy Shades of Even," "Macula Non Est in Te," "Immaculate, Be in This Day," and others. Miss Nellie Donous rendered Hardie's "O Salutaris," and Sewell's "Tantum Ergo." Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., was celebrant at vespers, and Brother James McCartin, O. M. I., was deacon and Rev. Fr. Fox, O. M. I., subdeacon.

Tomorrow afternoon at half past two Rev. Bishop De Silva, D. D., will administer the sacrament of confirmation to a large number of children, both from the Immaculate Conception parish and from that of the Sacred Heart. The class in all numbers about two hundred children and there is a number of adults.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The feast of Pentecost was solemnly observed in St. John's church yesterday. Masses were celebrated at 7.30 and 9.30 and the annual collection for the seminary was taken up at both services. The devotion of the Forty Hours will open next Sunday morning at the 9.30 mass and close Tuesday morning at 7.30. At the 9.30 o'clock mass yesterday a class of 15 girls and 15 boys received first holy communion. The children presented a very fine appearance and showed the excellent training received from the Sisters of Notre Dame who are in charge of the Sunday school. Sister Marie Alferes had charge of the girls and Sister Juliana directed the boys. A sermon on the solemnity of the feast was preached by the celebrant, Rev. E. C. Mitchell, who also expressed his appreciation for the excellent training and attention given the children by the Sisters in charge to the superior who makes it a point to be present and assist the children. During the mass there was special singing by the children. In the afternoon at 3.30 the children were enrolled in the secular by Fr. Mitchell after which benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given followed by the blessing of the relics.

The monthly meeting of the Holy Name society was held last night at 6.30 with a large attendance.

END LIVER TROUBLE WITHOUT CALOMEL

Untrustworthy Drug, Thought to Loosen the Teeth, Now Made Absolutely Unnecessary

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are the mildest but surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and biliary complaints with calomel. Dr. Edwards has been calomel's uncompromising foe. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-oil-coated tablets, a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. These pleasant, harmless little tablets do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't irritate the teeth like strong and liquid calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquors. It is best not to take calomel at all, but to let Olive Tablets take their place.

Most headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits.

At 15c and 25c a box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, O.

ASKS JOHNSON TO VETO BILL

Government Requests Delay in Alien Land Matter

Secretary Bryan Telegraphs in President's Name

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The federal government's final effort to delay alien land owning legislation in California was made last night when Secretary Bryan, in the name of President Wilson, telegraphed Gov. Johnson, notifying him that the Japanese ambassador had earnestly protested against the bill passed by the California assembly and urging that the governor postpone action by withholding his signature.

Secretary Bryan's telegram, which was framed after a conference with the president yesterday, was dispatched last night and made public at the White House a few minutes later. It was as follows:

"The president directs me to express his appreciation of your courtesy in delaying action on the land bill now before you until its provisions could be communicated to the Japanese government, and considered by it.

"His Excellency, Baron Chinda, has, on behalf of his government, presented an earnest protest against the measure. As you have before you but two alternatives, viz:

"To approve or to veto, it will avail nothing to recall to your attention the amendments suggested to the legislature; and as the president has already laid before you his views upon the subject, it is unnecessary to reiterate them. It passes over the questions affecting treaty rights for two reasons, first, because the bill passed by the legislature is avowedly intent to conform to treaty obligations, and, second, because any conflict complained of would be a matter for the courts, but the president feels justified in expressing again his desire that action on the subject be deferred for this season and be reconsidered here but he is impelled by a sense of duty to express the hope that you will see fit to allow time for diplomatic effort. The nations affected by the proposed law are friendly nations—nations that have shown themselves willing to cooperate in the establishment of harmonious relations between their people and ours.

"If a postponement commends itself to your judgment, the president will be pleased to cooperate in a systematic effort to discover and correct any evils that may exist in connection with land ownership by aliens."

The decision of the administration to urge Gov. Johnson to use his power to veto or postpone any land legislation was reached after a series of conferences between the president, Secretary Bryan and John Bassett Moore, counselor of the state department, and frequent calls at the department by Ambassador Chinda. It was realized that any further attempt to have the bill enacted by the California legislature amended would be fruitless, since Secretary Bryan's trip to Sacramento was unavailing and the legislature is to adjourn next Tuesday.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Keith's Theatre Charles N. Saunders of the cast of "It Happened in New York," which opens a week's engagement at the Keith theatre this afternoon, is a performer of very wide experience. He is especially apt in giving personations of well known people, and during the second act of the afternoon he will display his abilities in this direction. John and George E. Gorman, the leading comedians of the company, are widely known. They will be seen in the very funny parts of "Sylvester Beau" and "Chauncey Maginnis." Miss Letty Grover is a fetching soubrette, and can sing and dance. Miss Marion George and Minnie Goodwin are others who are more than ordinarily capable. The chorus of ten handsome young women put the finishing touch on the performance. A dozen musical numbers will contribute much of sparkle to the affair. Ben Harney & Co. known as "The Darktown Swells," will sing and dance. Los Valadons, premiere bicyclists, have been specially engaged for the week, and Peppino, master of the accordion, is very favorably known for his work. Miss Hetti Murri, "The Aviator Girl," can be relied upon to furnish the sensation of the bill. Good seats for all performances may be obtained at the box office in advance. Phone 25.

Merrimack Square Theatre Commencing with this afternoon's matinee at the Merrimack Square theatre the great Parisian sensation, "Sapho" will be presented, with Miss Grace Young in the title role. She will be seen for the first time in this city in her famous Grecian costume. She will also appear in several other beautiful gowns. Elaborate preparations have been under way during the past week and a lavish production is promised. All the different members of the company will be seen to advantage and the latest moving picture will be given as usual from 1 to 10.30 p. m. and between the acts. Performances are continuous. Prices 10c and 20c. No higher seats one week in advance. Next week "Wildfire."

The Casino It has taken time and money to make the Casino what it is, one of the best conducted resorts of its kind in Massachusetts. Casino patrons are assured absolute courtesy, and as for the music and the ball, it may be said that the orchestra is made up of experienced players, and the ball is without a doubt the most spacious and best equipped for dancing in this section.

FRAGRANT WITH LOVE

Is the Memory of Mother of Christ

Mother's day was observed in several of the Protestant churches, yesterday, and the preachers told of the blessed influence of the mother. Tender tribute was paid to Mary, the mother of Jesus, as the sweet universal type of beautiful, glorious motherhood.

Kirk Street Church
"The Beatitudes of Motherhood" was Rev. C. A. Lincoln's sermon subject at the Kirk Street Congregational church, Sunday morning.In part, he said:
"The beatitudes of motherhood! There are three to which I invite your attention and they are like the three graces mentioned by St. Paul. In Luke 1:45, we read these words concerning the Virgin Mary, 'Blessed is she that believed'—the beatitude of hope; in

"Attention has been called to the fact that in literature, fiction is singularly lacking in the portrayal of the typical mother. Our novelists have been concerned with the romance of lovers, the affairs of husbands and wives, and the relations of friends, but have in a large measure overlooked that force which, like gravity, binds all together in its strong embrace, the love of motherhood. But the more serious productions of men have not failed to give recognition to the blessedness of motherhood. Christian history and Christian art set forth the noble graces and exalted worth of true mothers."

"History shows us that the exaltation of Mary, the mother of Jesus, did much to exalt motherhood and lift ideals of true womanhood. When Jesus commended his mother to his beloved disciple, John, he commended her to humanity. 'Blessed is she that believed.' Helen of Troy, the heroine of Greece, cannot for a moment compare with Mary, the mother of Jesus, and the mothers of all nations who lived before Christ, great though they were according to their knowledge, stand dimmed and lustreless beside the great glory of the mother of our Lord. Having believed, she did so until the end; for Mary stood beside the cross which

bore the body of her son. Others might desert him, but she could not. Those who thus remain faithful in this day to the trust God has given will, like Mary, stand beside the cross and from out that faith will come at last a sweet blessedness, a resurrection day, a blossoming of hope, a fruition of the earnest prayer.

"Blessed art thou among women." The career of the child engrosses the attention of the mother and his success is her greatest happiness. This yearning desire and intense longing of the mothers of the world for the welfare of their children is a powerful force in the affairs of men. Compare if you will the civilization of the ancient world with that of today. Faulty as our society may be, the state of society in Greece and Rome in their days of glory, reveals a condition which shows almost unmeasurable progress in the life of today. Much of this is due to the influence of Christian motherhood. Mothers who have taught their little ones lessons of purity, pity, goodness and love, from the life of Christ. Anxious as mothers are for the welfare of their children, they find in the Christian religion that which makes for highest character and truest success. Much remains to be accomplished in the world, that every mother may see her child possessed of every opportunity for fullest development. Very much that has been accomplished and will be accomplished, must be credited to this never ceasing pressure of mother-love."

First Universalist Church
At the First Universalist church on Sunday morning Rev. C. E. Fisher, D.D., preached on "Mother's Love."
"We owe a debt we can never pay," he said, "to the love and devotion of the mother. It has been the guiding star of our life, 'from the cradle to the grave,' and it will be among the choicest treasures of the heavenly life that awaits us."

The preacher depicted the spirit too often shown of neglect or disrespect to the mother. Some, it was said, look upon the toll-worn, aged, decrepit mother as a burden. But if such people would but reflect upon what these very mothers have done for them, they would experience a feeling of shame.

First Baptist Church
Rev. B. R. Harris preached on "A Tribute to Our Mothers" at the First Baptist church last evening. The sermon was one filled with tenderness. It told of the noble examples set by mothers of their tasks, encountered and of the steady faith and persistence in meeting them. But for the innate wisdom and goodness of mothers the world would have been robbed of some of its finest examples of manhood. Mothers have made great men, by their wonderful influence. The preacher laid stress upon living up to the fine ideals of our mothers, whether the mothers are living or have passed beyond. If we do this, then we will become better men and women.

by the people at the church services.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 10.
"I appreciate the honor conferred on me by the Lowell church, but am humbled by the responsibility thus put on me to reach the right decision. I shall give the matter earnest attention and announce decision just as early as I see clearly what my duty is."

The preacher at both services yesterday was Rev. W. G. Pope of Liverpool, England. In the morning his subject was "The Art of Seeing God," and at the evening service he preached on "Turning Dust Into Diamonds." The same material, he said, that goes to make coal, in God's wonderful crucibles is turned into a sparkling diamond. In the same way, God can take any man or woman that is but dust and turn him into a precious stone for his marvelous city of the new Jerusalem. Illustrating the man of dust, with splendid possibilities but no coherence, the man in God's crucible, and then, the finished diamond.

AT LETTER CARRIERS' CONVENTION

Lowell Man Was Elected Treasurer at Worcester Sunday

Treasurer

WORCESTER, May 12.—Seventy-five delegates and their friends to the annual convention and banquet of the Massachusetts State Association of Letter Carriers yesterday at the Hotel... The convention voted to hold the next convention at Holyoke on the second Sunday in June.

The following officers were elected: President, John J. Mansfield of Springfield; vice-president, Harold of Brockton; secretary, Bernard J. Curtis of Lynn; treasurer, George L. Adams of Lowell; delegate-at-large, John J. Murphy; alternate delegates, Nicholas F. Lawless of Boston.

The speakers at the banquet yesterday were J. W. Mansfield of Boston, who spoke on "The Retirement and Pension Bill of the Letter Carriers," Al Thayer of New York, C. T. Haddon of Boston, Joseph K. Atkinson of Fall River, Joseph T. Mugdian of Cincinnati, chief clerk of the national stock exchange, and Congressman Thomas Riley of Connecticut.

The address of welcome was made by Alderman Hugh Bourke, acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Wright, who is in Washington.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS MEET

Expected to Draft Preliminary Plans for Party Reorganization —10 States Represented

CHICAGO, May 12.—Progressive republican leaders from ten states are expected today to draft preliminary plans for the reorganization of the party. They will decide whether a convention shall be held soon, the attitude to be taken toward the national committee, what will best rally and reunite the forces of republicanism and other questions which were discussed informally at two meetings yesterday.

The statement who represent the progressive wing of the party were strengthened this morning by the arrival of former Gov. Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, while Senator Works of California telegraphed that he hoped to reach the city in time to attend the afternoon session. Other politicians from several central states swelled the attendance to more than

Senator Borah of Idaho is opposed to calling a republican national conference and his stand on this question yesterday was the beginning of a lengthy discussion. He asserted that it would be useless to attempt to reorganize the party by a conference because any meeting to be held at this time would be controlled by the enemies who controlled the convention last June. The senator fought the conference idea continuously since his arrival and will continue to do so today but is without much hope that his ideas will prevail. He was the center of discussion a second time yesterday when he advanced a plan for the direct election of delegates to national conventions, standing practically alone on this issue. Hostility to the present national commission has been openly expressed by several of the committee-

MORE DEATHS IN CANTON $500,000 FROM GRAFT

Tonsillitis Epidemic Continues to Spread

CANTON, May 12.—Three more deaths from tonsillitis occurred yesterday, bringing up the total since the epidemic started last week to 16. Four hundred cases have been discovered. Yesterday's victims were James J. Smith, aged 55, for 14 years senior vice-commander of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic; Arthur Lettewer, aged 55, and Mrs. Mary Sweeney, aged 65. By order of the board of health, the bodies were buried immediately without any public services.

Veterans' Pile Falls

The local post of the Grand Army veterans pleaded with the board of health to allow them to go in electric cars to St. Mary's cemetery, where Comrade Smith was buried, and say prayers as the body was lowered into the grave. Permission was refused, and the method of being used to stamp out the epidemic. Then the handful of gray-haired veterans lined up in front of Memorial hall as the hearse bearing their comrade went by, bowed their heads and lowered their flag in silent tribute.

No church or Sunday school services were held yesterday. The board of health announced that the library and public schools would remain closed next week.

Seven cases of the disease were discovered in the nearby town of Sharon yesterday. Health officials said they traced all the cases to Canton.

Alleged to Have Been Collected in Chicago

CHICAGO, May 12.—New arrests of men higher up in the protected clairvoyant trust are expected today. Three or more politicians and policemen will be in custody by nightfall. State's Attorney Horine intimated on reaching his office this morning. Barney Bertsche, ex-convict, former bookkeeper and politician, arrested as the go-between for the clairvoyants and who is at liberty on bail, was guarded throughout the night by detectives stationed about his residence. The state's attorney will place his evidence against Bertsche before the grand jury when it convenes today and asserts he will show that several politicians and policemen received a part of the $500,000 alleged to have been collected annually from the crime and graft rackets in exchange for protection. Mr. Horine declared that he had positive information that organized gangs of pickpockets and thugs pay thousands of dollars weekly for immunity. "I am going to get the man who received the protection money, the men who imported the clairvoyants, pickpockets and other criminals to Chicago from other cities," said Mr. Horine. "There are so many angles that I can't say just where the thing will break out next."

The prosecutor said he would prove to the grand jury that Bertsche acted as "fixer" for many clairvoyants in swindling cases in several large eastern cities where the "spook trust" has been operating.

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

Adjourns Today With a Record of Victory

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The California legislature will adjourn today with a practically unbroken record of victory for the progressive majority in the carrying out of the administration policies outlined by Gov. Hiram W. Johnson. The main discussed anti-trust bill holding full compliance to be lifted among these, while it had its inception in the majority side of the legislature, all parties were united in their desire for a law that would restrict the tenure of farm property by the Japanese. Following are some of the measures passed:

Direct election of United States senators was ordered.

To carry on white slavery prosecutions where the Mann act leaves off the provisions of the law incorporated in an act that applies to interstate traffic in women.

To safeguard marriages, a bill providing that all male applicants for marriage licenses must be equipped with health certificates.

Stock Reform Bills Stalled

ALBANY, N. Y., May 12.—The stock exchange reform bills were signed by Gov. Sulzer today.

Aviator Beachey Says He Will Never Fly Again

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Lincoln Beachey, the aviator, will never fly again, according to his statement here last night. "You couldn't get me into an aeroplane at this point of a day," he solemnly declared.

They called me the master balloonist, but there was just one thing which drew crowds to my exhibitions was a morbid desire to see something happen. They all predicted I would be killed at I once wanted to miss getting in on it. They paid to see me die. The last and the odds were always against my life."

Small Brush Fire

The fire department was called out about two o'clock this afternoon for a small brush fire at the corner of Pine and Parker streets. There was no damage.

Two Hatched Schooner Sank

PORTLAND, Me., May 12.—The two-hatched schooner Edith Thompson sank here last night in South Portland today after being beached by waves. She evidently filled with water over Sunday.

TRADING DULL AT OPENING OF THE MARKET

Drift of Prices Was Downward—Transactions Small During Morning—Thin Market Prevailed

NEW YORK, May 12.—Trading at the opening of the stock market today was the duller for many weeks. The drift of prices was downward, although losses in most cases were restricted to small fractions. Exceptions were Rumely and Can. pf, which lost a point each.

Heading and U. P. moved up half a point and Steel 1/2, but the buying soon stopped and the market eased off. Transactions in the first half hour were under 25,000 shares.

With early speculation so dull as to give promise of the smallest day's business of the year, traders found it difficult to attract a following on either the short or the long side by concentrating on special stocks. The holiday abroad and the possibility of important decisions today by the supreme court restricted business. Some selling was caused by the falling off in certain lines of business, the spread of labor troubles and the unfavorable steel tonnage figures, published after the close today but soon prices steadied and the later movement was alternately up and down within a narrow range. The sugar stocks showed exceptional weakness. American Sugar lost two points and Beet Sugar as much.

A thin market prevailed for inactive stocks and prices sagged. Coal shares continued to reflect uneasiness over the threatened prosecution by the government. Central railroad of New Jersey broke 20 points to 300 and Pennsylvania sold at 111, a new low record. Pressure also was effective against Harvester pf and the Virginia-Carolina chemical issues.

The stagnation of business in the afternoon was relieved for a while by a selling movement in which the active list declined a half point or more. Reading sold 1/2 and Lehigh Valley 1/2 below Saturday's close.

The market closed heavy. Bearish sentiment was increased by the steadily falling level of investment shares, the establishing new low levels, in all there were 101 stocks of various classes which sold at low figures for the year.

ONE DEAD TWO DYING IN WRECK

BOSTON, May 12.—Mrs. Beulah R. Smith of 27 Winthrop road, Lexington, is dead; Paul R. Moulton of Bourne terrace, Brookline, is dying, and Francis Holmes of Brookline is seriously injured as the result of an auto accident on the Cohasset road at 6:30 o'clock last night.

Moulton, with Mrs. Smith and Holmes as his companions, was driving an auto that had won the Vanderbilt race and also several prizes at the Rockingham Park races.

He was speeding against another car on the way from Cohasset to Boston, when, in making a sharp turn in the road, the auto skidded, came against a board walk and turned turtle.

Mrs. Smith died on the train rushing her from Cohasset to Boston. Moulton has a compound fracture of the skull and has but little chance of living.

He is at the Des Brix hospital on Newbury street, this city, and has been unconscious ever since he was hurt.

The doctors expect his death at any moment.

Holmes has a fractured skull and the tattered hospital doctors in this city have operated on him and believe his chances of recovery are very doubtful.

Result of a Road Race

The accident is declared to be the result of a road race. Moulton is said by the Cohasset police to have been speeding with another machine whose identity is not known to the police. It is a well known auto racer, and competed at the Rockingham races in his car which once won the Vanderbilt cup.

Behind the fatal car J. H. Smith, husband of the dead woman and Mrs. Moulton, the wife of the racer, were riding. A puncture to a tire of their machine held them up, and it was not until they reached the scene of the accident and learned of the removal of the bodies that they knew of the catastrophe which had occurred.

Just at the sharp bend on the state road at the railroad crossing by the Whitney estate at Cohasset the Moulton automobile in rounding a curve skidded, struck the steel rails, bounced into the air, fell back and landed on the tracks. The automobile landed on the crossbars, made of steel rails, which are laid to prevent cattle from entering the railroad tracks.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARD

this city. After nearly three hours deliberation the committee decided in favor of the claimant. The vote was unanimous, though Mr. Allen expressed himself as being opposed to the claimant, because, he said, he was untruthful. An appeal may be taken to the supreme court but it was stated today that the insurance company would accept the decision of the committee.

James J. Kerwin appeared for Mr. McAndrew and in reply to questions Mr. McAndrew said that at the time of the accident he was in the employ of E. A. Wilson & Co. He told about his movements during the day of the accident and up to the time of the accident. He had delivered two loads of coal during the forenoon and after having delivered the coal he went back to the yard and loaded in barrels of time on his wagon. He arrived at the office of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., about the noon hour and a man was sent to show him where to put the time. He told of the archway under the bridge. The horse became nervous and unmanageable. He was hit by the arch and thrown back on the barrels. He said he had not been drinking that morning.

Charles E. Todd, counsel for the insurance company, asked Mr. McAndrew several questions relative to the delivery of the time and his condition at the time. Mr. McAndrew said he had not had a drink that morning and possibly not for three or four days previous. He was not sure how far he had gone in the tunnel or under the archway when the accident occurred.

Mr. McAndrew said he could not remember that he had ever been arrested for drunkenness, or that he had ever been placed on probation.

In reply to Mr. Kerwin's claimant said he is in poor health and that he has lost fifteen pounds since he was injured.

In reply to Mr. Todd, Mr. McAndrew said he was not sure that he did not have a drink the day before the accident.

"You are a drinking man—you take a drink when you feel like it," said Mr. Kerwin.

"Were you intoxicated at the time of the accident?"

"I was not."

Mrs. McAndrew, wife of the claimant, said that she did not detect any smell of liquor from her husband's breath when he was brought home in a hack. She said her husband takes a glass occasionally, but that he does not abuse it and works every day.

Mrs. McAndrew said she received letters from the insurance company stating that the company would contest the case. It was not stated in the letter that the case would be contested on the ground that the claimant was intoxicated.

Mrs. McAndrew said that she has three children and that she goes out washing and ironing to help support the family. She said that on the day of the accident she went to the office of the E. A. Wilson Co. and talked with Mr. George Burns, a superintendent for the company, and that Mr. Burns told her that he thought Mr. McAndrew was sober when he went out on the load of lime.

Mrs. McAndrew said her husband had been arrested three times for drunkenness and each time placed on probation by the court.

Dr. J. J. Gaffney testified that he attended Mr. McAndrews for his injury about 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the day that he was injured. He did not detect the odor of liquor from Mr. McAndrew's breath. The doctor thought the accident was of such a nature as to effect the claimant's memory. The doctor described the injuries and said the charges for setting the ribs and for each visit. He said it was necessary for a time, to call twice a day. Dr. Gaffney said that Mr. McAndrew had been subject to asthma but had gotten rid of it. The accident, he said, renewed the attack and Mr. McAndrew has asthma at the present time. He said to relieve the pain it was necessary to use morphine.

Mr. Coughlin said he knew Mr. McAndrew and talked with him on the morning of the accident and that Mr. McAndrew was sober. "I did not notice any signs of drunkenness and I think the man was all right," he said.

Mr. Coughlin said he worked with Mr. McAndrew for five years. He knew he was a drinking man and had seen him drunk on the loading of liquor. "How often did you see him intoxicated?" was asked.

"Twice, I think," replied Mr. Coughlin.

George E. Burns was sworn. Mr. Burns said his position is that of manager for E. A. Wilson & Co. Mr. Burns said that on the day of the accident Mr. McAndrew had been drinking but did not think he was unfit for work.

He said he knew Mr. McAndrew had been drinking because his breath smelled of liquor. He told of his conversation with Mrs. McAndrew and said she told him that she had tried to persuade her husband not to go to work that morning because of his condition.

Mr. Burns said that at the time he saw him last the claimant was fit to do business. "I thought he knew he had been drinking."

Arthur Senter, a foreman in the carpenter shop of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., testified that he saw the claimant on the day of the injury. He was the first man to see claimant when he arrived at the yard. He said McAndrew was not in a fit condition to drive a team.

Asked why he thought he was intoxicated, witness said that claimant could not find the slips for him to sign and that he had some difficulty in getting back on his wagon.

Lyman S. Richards, another employee of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., said he had been appointed to show Mr. McAndrew where to put the lime. He said he rode with Mr. McAndrew to within six or eight feet of the tunnel. He cautioned Mr. McAndrew that he would have to get down on the shaft going through the tunnel. "I knew the man had been drinking," witness said, "because his breath smelled of liquor. I thought, however, that he was all right and took care of himself."

David Thistle, foreman of the yard, said he performed the act of first aid to the injured and declared that Mc-

$10,800 OF STRIKE FUND MISSING

No Satisfactory Explanation of Disposition of Money Contributed During Trouble

BOSTON, May 12.—No satisfactory explanation of the disposition of $10,800 out of a total of more than $63,000 subscribed for the benefit of the striking operatives and their families during the great Lawrence textile strike of 1912 has been made, according to the finding of Winfield S. Stocum, the master who investigated the strike expenditures.

Stocum filed his report with the supreme court today. Joseph Bedard, secretary of the committee to solicit funds for the strikers, deposited in his own name in the Lawrence Trust company on Feb. 12, 1912, $2800 and on Feb. 21 made a deposit of $8,000, the master states. Later he drew checks for $2500 in favor of Vincent St. John of Chicago, secretary of the national organization of the Industrial Workers of the World, $3000 payable to Thomas Powers, textile worker of Providence, and $5,000 to Desires Steur of Lawrence.

It was claimed that these disbursements were returned to the strikers' fund but on the evidence, Stocum says, he finds that the money was not returned and used for the benefit of the strikers.

The master reports that neither Joseph Bedard nor William D. Haywood, leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, who were in charge of the strike, received any part of the fund.

Proceedings against Bedard and other members of the strike fund committee were brought by Attorney-General Swift at the instigation of three Boston men who had contributed to the fund and complained in a bill in equity that some of the money had been improperly used for private and personal ends. An expert accountant examined the records at strike headquarters and found that $14,980 had been spent in sending children of strikers from Lawrence to New York, Philadelphia and other cities; $1,363 for agitation and $1,712 for "law." The records show, according to the accountant, that $10,830 was paid to Joseph Shaheen, treasurer of the strike committee, $8,150 to Angelo Rocco, $4,979 to August Detolene, Shaheen attended to the needs of the Syrian people on strike, Rocco looked after the Italians, and Detolene was in charge of the relief work among the Franco-Belgians. The accounts of Shaheen fall to show the expenditure of $2,568, according to the master's report, and although Mr. Stocum believes that Rocco used the larger part of his receipts for relief purposes yet there is an item for $226 for which no voucher can be found.

Former Lowell Priest Died at Randolph, Mass.

Had Been Pastor of Church There for Many Years

THE LATE REV. D. J. GLEASON

Rev. Daniel J. Gleason, formerly assistant rector of St. Patrick's church, Lowell, died early yesterday morning in Randolph, where for more than 15 years he has officiated as pastor of St. Mary's church. Rev. Fr. Gleason was a nephew of the late Rev. Michael O'Brien, and it was during the time of the latter as pastor of St. Patrick's church that deceased was assistant.

Fr. Gleason also was at one time assistant pastor of St. Paul's church, Cambridge, and was also for a time connected with St. Mary's church of Newton Upper Falls.

Deceased was a native of Ireland, having been born in Tipperary, Ireland, Sept. 15, 1851. He received his early education there, and in 1870 entered St. Finnel college in Ennis, Ireland, from which institution he was graduated in 1875. A short time afterward he came to America and entered the Grand seminary at Montreal, where he spent five

TARIFF REVISION FIGHT

Renewed in the Senate
Today

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The tariff revision fight, shifted from the house, will be renewed in the senate today when the Underwood bill comes up for reference to the finance committee. The senate was not in session today. The house met today to dispose of what some party leaders refer to as "chicken feed," with the announced purpose of adjourning almost immediately for three days, a beginning of regular adjournments for similar periods until the first week of June.

The idea is to mark time pending the tariff fight on the senate side of the capital and preparations of currency legislation. Meantime the democratic majority in the ways and means committee as the committee on committees will meet almost daily to frame the personnel of the regular committees of the house.

JUDGE CAVAN

New Haverhill Judge President in Court For First Time and is Warmly Congratulated
Lowell friends of Judge Daniel J. Cavan, of Haverhill, recently appointed to the district court of Northern Essex, will be interested to learn that the new judge presided in court for the first time on Friday last. A goodly number of lawyers and well known citizens were present at the session and at its close the judge was warmly congratulated. Judge Cavan enjoys the distinction of being one of the youngest judges in New England.

NEAR FATE OF TITANIC

Steamer Chiltern Range
Hits Iceberg

HOW PLATES BADLY DENTED BY GLANCING BLOW

Luckily Slid Off Ice Mass and Escaped Contact With Sharp Sections—Miraculous Escape

MONTREAL, May 12.—The fate of the Titanic was narrowly escaped by the steamer Chiltern Range in a collision with an iceberg to the east of the Newfoundland banks on her voyage from Hull to this port, where she arrived yesterday.

The steamer, a British freighter, had her bow plates badly dented by a glancing blow she struck the berg and only the fact that she luckily slid off the ice mass and escaped contact with any sharp section of the underlying portion of it saved her from disaster, in Capt. Rea's opinion.

In Track of Icebergs

The berg was struck in latitude 46.33 north, and longitude 44.40 west, in the track of ocean liners, but some distance to the north and east of the spot where the Titanic met her fate.

After the collision the steamer was surrounded by icebergs which, although they could not be seen, evidenced their presence by the echoes that resounded from their towering sides at every blast from the steamer's whistle. Those on board regarded her escape from destruction as nothing short of miraculous.

"We were going dead slow because of the dense fog which prevented us from seeing more than a foot ahead," said Capt. Rea last night in describing the steamer's experience. "Suddenly an iceberg loomed up to starboard which I estimated to be at least from 100 to 200 feet high. It towered above us."

"The vessel touched it with her starboard bow, but fortunately the impact only dented a couple of her plates. The Chiltern Range struck the berg a glancing blow. No, we did not reverse the engines, or I should not be here to tell the tale. We just slid off the berg, as it were. Had the engines been reversed there would probably have been a stem on collision."

"What I was most afraid of was that an underlying spur of the iceberg might rip the ship open, as was the case when the Titanic struck. When the ship slid away from the berg we went to the eastward, but very slowly. We stood away to the eastward till dark, and lay all night with the engines almost stopped. We were surrounded by icebergs, for though we could not see we could hear them. After every blast of the whistle a sound like the report of a gun followed from 20 to 30 seconds later."

PAINFUL INJURY

TAILOR RAN NEEDLE THROUGH DONE OF LITTLE FINGER

George W. Burns Fell at Corner of Central and Jackson Streets and Sustained Gash in Head

George Nagle, a tailor in the employ of John Toplan, ran the needle of a sewing machine through the bone of the little finger on the right hand Saturday. It was a very painful wound and the injured man was taken to the Emergency hospital where his finger was dressed.

Gash in Head

George W. Burns, who resides in Bridge street received a bad fall Saturday at the corner of Central and Jackson streets and as a consequence was taken to the Emergency hospital where several stitches were taken in a gash in his head.

Foot Injured

The Emergency hospital had another case Saturday when the wheelbarrow which Peter Daley was trundling ran into another barrow. The barrow tipped over on Daley's foot and fractured several small bones.

CHELMSFORD

Rev. Earl Alan Roadman preached at the morning service at the Central Congregational church in Chelmsford yesterday, and took for his subject, "Our Mothers." At the conclusion of the service in commemoration of Methers' day, each woman member of the congregation was presented a white carnation.

Rev. C. H. Ellis preached at the Central Baptist church of Chelmsford and took for subject, "Mother's Place."

THE CREATION

Tickets for the Choral Society's Oratorio on Wednesday Night Are Going Like "Hot Cakes"

There has been a splendid response by the public in the sale of tickets for the Choral society's performance of "The Creation," on Wednesday night this week. About the only seats left unsold are in the second balcony, and these are rapidly being secured by the belated ticket seekers. By many who keenly enjoy and appreciate good music the seats in the second balcony are considered the best in the opera house for a musical evening. The best efforts of the soloists, the chorus and of the orchestra are to be appreciated there as from no other part of the house. There will be lots of good company there, even as there was the night Schumann-Heink sang. The chorus is bound to appear at its best and with the trio of soloists and the orchestra "The Creation" will have a presentation which will equal, if it doesn't surpass any previous effort, which has been made in this city.

You Smoke a "Better" Tobacco— Why Not Smoke The Best?

WALLACE IRWIN

Wallace Irwin, writer and lyricist, author of "Leaders of a Japanese Schoolboy," etc., says:

"Tuxedo is always welcome. A pleasant smoke, a mental brace—the ideal tobacco."

JAMES W. LOYND

James W. Loynd, superintendent of the Prudential Insurance Co., at Philadelphia, says:

"I could not smoke a pipe until I smoked Tuxedo. I found it a cool—mild—refreshing tobacco of delightful flavor. As a salve and relief after a strenuous day, it is the 'Real Thing.'"

WM. COATES

Wm. Coates, Chief Engineer of the Pittsburgh Fire Department, says:

"Tuxedo is mild, with no tongue-bite and no throat irritation. I like it as well as any tobacco that I have ever used."

THE tobacco you now smoke you consider "better tobacco than you ever smoked before." Naturally, you kept trying until you found a "better" one.

But it stands to reason that since there is a difference in tobaccos, you may be missing still greater pleasure in a still better smoke—in the BEST smoke, in fact.

We know that Tuxedo is the best smoke because we know that no better tobacco leaf grows, and that no process of treating tobacco leaf equals the original Tuxedo process.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

We know that Tuxedo is made of the BEST tobacco—rich, mellow, perfectly aged Kentucky Burley. None better can be bought, because none better is grown.

Tuxedo is pure tobacco, through and through—handled under the cleanliest conditions.

It is treated by the famous original "Tuxedo process" for removing the sting and bite of the natural vegetable oils.

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have sprung up.

No other tobacco can give the unique pleasure of Tuxedo because no other maker has yet been able to equal the Tuxedo quality!

Only by smoking the original can you get complete satisfaction in pipe or cigarette.

YOU CAN BUY TUXEDO EVERYWHERE

Famous green tin, with gold lettering, curved to fit pocket 10c Convenient pouch, inner-5c lined with moisture-proof paper 5c

HENRY HUNT

Henry Hunt, whose "American Girl" creation have made him famous, says:

"A pipeful of Tuxedo puts new life into me. The mildest and purest tobacco known."

GEORGE E. PHILLIPS

George E. Phillips, Mayor of Covington, Kentucky, says:

"A good pipe, and Tuxedo to fill it, and I'm satisfied. The tobacco in the little green tin has no rival as far as I am concerned."

W. HAYDEN COLLINS

W. Hayden Collins, prominent in real estate and member of the Chamber of Commerce of Washington, D. C., says:

"I've compared Tuxedo with other tobaccos, much to the advantage of Tuxedo. It leads by a wide margin in purity and mildness."

Cleveland's Baking Powder

Adds wholesomeness to the food.

A plain cake, made with Cleveland's Baking Powder, is better than a pound cake costing twice as much made with an alum powder.

Cleveland's Baking Powder is pure, clean and wholesome, and with less trouble and concern makes the cake lighter, sweeter, purer, more appetizing and beautiful and assuredly wholesome.

Take every precaution to avoid alum baking powders, as alum in food is deleterious. They may be known by their lower price.

P. W. Dunklee says it isn't necessary for Lowell fishermen to go to sea for fish, not even for that species, the trout. Mr. Dunklee went ashore Saturday afternoon and returned with seven handsome brook trout. He caught them, he said, with three miles of the city, but, like all other fishermen, Mr. Dunklee is a bit stingy and refuses to give the name of the brook which gave up the trout. The seven trout weighed between three and four pounds and are on exhibition at the Tarpon in Central street.

ST. MICHAEL'S MISSION CLOSED

Closing Sermon by Rev. Fr. Higgins, O. P.,—Mission Attracted Vast Attendance

The mission for men conducted by the Dominican Fathers at St. Michael's church during the past week was brought to a close last evening with solemn services which were attended by a magnificent congregation of the male members of the parish. This attendance was merely a repetition of the attendance at the other services throughout the entire week at which the capacity of the church was taxed. The text of the sermon last evening had to do with the importance of salvation and was taken from the words: "What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his own soul." The preacher was Rev. Father Higgins, O. P., whose discourse was brief yet impressive and thoughtful in the extreme. At the opening, the speaker dwelt upon a contrast between the goods and pleasures of the world, the ambitions of the men of the world, their struggle for earthly progress and the happiness of the soul in the pursuit of virtue, showing the folly of the former being placed before the latter. From a standpoint of human reason, the preacher explained how it is the men of the lesser intellectual status who seek the worldly things in preference to the things of God, however highly educated they may profess to be on whatever may be their knowledge of the science or other topics. The rational man is the one who can perceive that the ultimate and unending good is that which accrues to the faithful who follow in the footsteps of God and seek only the salvation of their souls, directing their earthly pursuits to that end and making them a help rather than a hindrance to their attaining heaven and eternal happiness.

means of many great discoveries. Pasteur was a practical Catholic in every sense of the word. His ambition was not for wealth, nor honor, nor high office, nor social prestige, but as he said himself and as his entire life effectively demonstrated, his one aim was to attain the simple faith of his mother. Pasteur received holy communion every day that it was possible for him to do so and he also recited daily the entire rosary of fifteen decades. Asked on one occasion if he did not find traveling tiresome, for he was called upon to travel very frequently, he replied that he did not, for he had with him his rosary beads. Pasteur was of poor parentage but a remarkable student. There was a man of intellect with opportunities for riches and fame and everything that the world can bring, yet he remained faithful to his church and furnished succeeding generations an example which will live well even to follow. His faith did not stand in the way of his progress and on the other hand, neither did he allow his success to swerve him from the righteous path; his religion he placed first and his earthly pursuits afterwards. In concluding, Rev. Father Higgins dwelt on the means of attaining salvation, saying that they are good works, prayer and frequent attendance at the sacraments. Without these, we cannot expect to attain God's grace for perseverance in the mission. Our lives, he said, like Pasteur's, should be a continuance of the mission. He exhorted all the men present to persevere in their good resolutions that they may be true Catholics and followers of Christ. The choir then sang hymns in which the men of the congregation joined. Rev. Father Higgins celebrated benediction of the blessed sacrament, after which Rev. Father Higgins conferred the papal benediction.

IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

Pentecost Sunday Was Observed Yesterday

Yesterday, Pentecost or Whit-Sunday was observed in the Catholic churches with appropriate sermons and fine musical programs.

At St. Patrick's church, Rev. Father Keenan celebrated the high mass and Rev. Fr. Curtin preached a thoughtful sermon, taking his text from the gospel of the day. There was a special message of the Holy Family sodality in the afternoon and last evening the members of the Holy Name society held a meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Peter's Holy Name society took place at 8:30 o'clock last evening in St. Paul's chapel with a large attendance of members. During the recitation of members, the membership of this society increased remarkably owing to the foresight of the priests and officers in passing out membership cards to the men. Rev. John F. Burns was present at the meeting and spoke encouragingly of the work of the organization and urged a continuance of the energy evident in the past.

During the business session plans were made for the annual party to be held on May 23.

Instruction classes for those who are to be confirmed are held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons at four o'clock and the attendance is large.

St. Joseph's Church

A pretty ceremony was held at St. Joseph's church yesterday morning, when over a thousand men, all members of Courts St. Antoine and St. Paul, C. O. F., attended their annual communion in a body. The service took place at 7 o'clock, mass being celebrated by the chaplain of Court St. Paul, Rev. Charles Audibert, O. M. I., while the sermon, a forceful one on Catholic fraternal organizations, was delivered by Rev. Henri Watella, pastor and chaplain of Court St. Antoine.

The men gathered at the C. M. A. C. hall in Pawtucket street at 8:30 o'clock and marched to the church in a body. During the mass there was appropriate singing by members of both courts. The customary breakfast after communion was omitted this year.

Rev. Alphonse T. Nolin, O. M. I., was the celebrant of the parish mass at St. Joseph's church yesterday morning. The altar was beautifully decorated, the occasion being the feast of the Pentecost. The choir under the direction of Telephone Male rendered special music, and at the offertory Mr. Ernest J. Dupont sang in fine voice Dudley Buck's "Salve Regina." The sermon was delivered by Rev. Armand Baron, O. M. I.

Several hundred children, including a large number from Notre Dame de Lourdes and St. Louis' churches will be confirmed tomorrow afternoon at St. Joseph's church, the ceremony to be performed by Rt. Rev. Bishop Da Silva.

St. Louis'

The feast of the Pentecost was observed in a fitting manner at St. Louis' church yesterday morning. The parish mass was celebrated at 8:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. N. Jacques, while a forceful sermon on the feast was delivered by Rev. L. O. Bonard. The choir sang Blaise's mass, and at the offertory Miliard's "Veni Creator" was sung, the solos being sustained by Miss Clemence Sinaud, Miss Bernadette Fontaine, Jules Morrisette and O. J. David.

Body Still Unclaimed

The body of Michael Welch, who fell down stairs at a house on Central street and died shortly after, has not yet been claimed, although several people have called at the rooms of Undertaker Saunders and identified the body. If the body is not claimed before tomorrow morning it will be buried.

SECOND TRIAL OF QUINLAN

Jury Being Selected at Paterson, N. J.

PATERSON, N. J., May 12.—Selection of a second jury to try Patrick Quinlan, Industrial Worker of the World leader indicted for inciting silk mill workers to riot was begun here today. The first jury was unable to reach an agreement and was discharged. When Quinlan's trial is concluded William D. Haywood and others are to be tried on a similar charge.

BOY PINNED UNDER CAR

It Took 25 Minutes to Extricate Him

BOSTON, May 12.—Because an excited crowd pressed in about the car interfered so with the work of rescue by the railroad employees, 4-year-old Joseph Hendry of 79 Albion st. was forced to remain pinned beneath an electric car for 25 minutes yesterday afternoon. How the little chap escaped death is a mystery. At the City Hospital last night he was suffering from a broken arm and an ugly scalp wound.

Japanese Invited to New Mexico CARLSBAD, N. M., May 12.—The Carlsbad chamber of commerce has extended an invitation to Japanese farmers in California to emigrate to New Mexico and take up homes in the lower Pecos valley.
